KABUL - Vowing to continue efforts to bring lasting peace and stability to war-torn Afghanistan, President Ashraf Ghani on Monday Afghanistan was facing the "5th wave of international violence" which needed regional cooperation to be controlled. Ghani said this while paying over the special Joint Coordination and Monitoring Board (JCMB) meeting here.

Ghani stressed, representatives of parliament, civil society, special Cabinet ministers, representatives in an ambasadors and representatives of ambassadors and representatives of international organizations in Kabul attended the meeting aimed at evaluating recent developments and government activities during the past one year.

Established in 2006 in accordance with the draft of United Nations Security Council, JCMB is a decision-making body that provides strategic coordination, policy formulation and political advisability in Afghanistan, the board has to discuss different issues such drafting joint policies, political and accountability.

KABUL - President Ashraf Ghani’s picks for the interior minister, minister of justice and minister of security in the Wolesi Jirga for a vote of confidence on Monday.

Mai Muhammad, Mon- hammad Farid Hamidi and Mohammad Zaman Sangari have respectively been nomi- nated for the interior minister, attorney-general and Su- preme Court member.

Second Vice-President Mohammad Sadiq Danish, while introducing the three nominees, urged the lawmakers to give confidence to ensure justice and security in the country.

The lower house would vote on the proposed draft provided by the Special Electoral Reform Commission (ERC).

President Ashraf Ghani’s picks for the interior minister, AG and Supreme Court minister are brought into the electoral system.” said: “Elections will have no meaning unless reforms are brought into the electoral system.”

Another member of the watchdog, Mahbuba Saraj, said: “Elections will have no meaning unless reforms are brought into the electoral system.”

KABUL - President Ashraf Ghani’s picks for the interior minister, attorney-general and Supreme Court member are presented to the Wolesi Jirga for a vote of confidence on Monday.

Mai Muhammad, Mohammad Farid Hamidi and Mohammad Zaman Sangari have respectively been nominated for the interior minister, attorney-general and Supreme Court member.

Second Vice-President Mohammad Danish, while introducing the three nominees, urged the lawmakers to give confidence to ensure justice and security in the country.

The lower house would vote on the proposed draft provided by the Special Electoral Reform Commission (ERC).

President Ashraf Ghani’s picks for the interior minister, AG and Supreme Court minister are brought into the electoral system.” said: “Elections will have no meaning unless reforms are brought into the electoral system.”

Another member of the watchdog, Mahbuba Saraj, said: “Elections will have no meaning unless reforms are brought into the electoral system.”

A national plan for judicial reforms has been prepared and is at the approval stage to implement inclusive reforms in courts, the government is considering to implement inclusive reforms in courts, the government is considering judicial reforms in different fields, especially in economic and rural development.

KABUL - President Ashraf Ghani launched a series of small things we face ‘5th Wave of International Violence’

Includes the following reforms:

KABUL - President Ashraf Ghani said that governments and the international community have to take more substantial action on international violence, as the government officials in Afghanistan for a year.

President Ashraf Ghani said: “We are facing a 5th wave of international violence, which will continue to increase in the months to come. The international community has a responsibility to support Afghanistan in this regard. We need to increase our efforts and adopt more comprehensive approaches to address this challenge.”

Recent developments in Afghanistan have shown that the international community must play a more active role in supporting the government and the Afghan people in the fight against terrorism and violence. The government is committed to working closely with the international community to address this challenge. We need to continue to work together to ensure the safety and security of the Afghan people.”

KABUL - The Republic of Korea has promised continued assistance to Afghanistan in different fields and expanding bilateral relations. Ambassador Chan- ki Hoon held out the assurance on Monday at a meeting with Foreign Minister Subhedeep Rahim in the Kabul, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Ralph thanked the Republic of Korea for its co- operation and contribution to the rebuilding of Afgha- nistan. The two sides also discussed bilateral political and security issues.

The ambassador assured Ghani would continue to support Afghanistan by sharing its experiences in different fields, especially in economic and rural development areas.

A group of Korean experts in the field of rural de- velopment and forest rehabilitation would visit Afghanistan with the government, the envoy said.

Rahim said, providing scholarships to Afghan students, particularly in the sector of science and technology, was important. (Farihak)

KABUL - The Republic of Korea has pledged $3.2 million to support the Afghanistan National Civil Law Center (ANC) for the year 2016 in support of international democracy.

The bilateral is expected to include support for the Afghan National Civil Law Center, which aims to provide legal aid to Afghan citizens, including women and children, and to promote access to justice for all. The grant will support the center’s efforts to expand its reach and increase its impact, particularly in rural areas, where access to legal services is often limited.

The center is a joint initiative of the Government of Afghanistan and the Republic of Korea, and is currently implementing projects in various provinces, including Jowzjan, Baghlan, and Faryab.

The grant will support the center’s efforts to establish new offices and provide legal aid to Afghan citizens in need, particularly women and children. It will also support the center’s efforts to strengthen its capacity to provide legal services to Afghan citizens, including through the provision of legal training and support to Afghan lawyers and legal professionals.

KABUL - President Ashraf Ghani said Monday that the formation of a new government in Afghanistan is the result of the hard work of the Afghan people and the international community.

“Without the support of the international community, we could not have achieved this level of progress in Afghanistan,” Ghani said.

The president also thanked the international community for their support, particularly the United States, the United Kingdom, and Germany, for their continued commitment to Afghanistan. He emphasized the importance of continued international support to help the Afghan government achieve its goals.

Ghani said that the new government will continue to work closely with the international community to address the country’s challenges, including the ongoing war with the Taliban and the need for improved security and governance.

The president also called on the international community to continue supporting the Afghan government, particularly in the areas of security, economic development, and governance.

KABUL - The Republic of Korea has promised continued assistance to Afghanistan in different fields and expanding bilateral relations. Ambassador Chan- ki Hoon held out the assurance on Monday at a meeting with Foreign Minister Subhedeep Rahim in the Kabul, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Ralph thanked the Republic of Korea for its co- operation and contribution to the rebuilding of Afgha- nistan. The two sides also discussed bilateral political and security issues.

The ambassador assured Ghani would continue to support Afghanistan by sharing its experiences in different fields, especially in economic and rural development areas.

A group of Korean experts in the field of rural de- velopment and forest rehabilitation would visit Afghanistan with the government, the envoy said.

Rahim said, providing scholarships to Afghan students, particularly in the sector of science and technology, was important. (Farihak)