We want to thank all those who contributed to making this possible and to our colleagues in the media and the wider public who supported the effort. It is my hope that this report will provide a basis for discussion and action, and that it will help to bring about the changes that Afghan society needs.

In conclusion, we urge the Afghan government to take immediate action to address the challenges facing Afghan society. We believe that this can be achieved through a comprehensive approach that includes both political and economic solutions. We also urge the international community to support this effort by providing the necessary resources and expertise.

Finally, we wish to express our gratitude to all those who have helped to make this report possible, including our colleagues in the media and the wider public. We believe that this report will provide a basis for discussion and action, and that it will help to bring about the changes that Afghan society needs.
