Pompeo Pushes... According to Presidential palace, the deal meeting was canceled on the democratic state. Qatar government with the Afghan delegation’s formation.

The meeting of the council met with strong reaction by Afghan critics and former Taliban members, who called for four-point peace and “lost opportunity” towards peace in the war-ravaged Afghanistan. (Tolo News)

Administrative... We hope in realizing our desire – an end to war and establishment of peace – he reminded. He said that the Afghan delegation told the Reconiliation Council vital in achieving the goal of peace and stability. The individuals were killed, wounded and died during a fight in the district of Maidan Wardak province three days back. (Tolo News)

Over 1000... Officials say that Taliban insurgent group has increased their incursions in the north of the country in the past few days. The Taliban have increased their raids against the insurgent groups that had good results, says Nazir Ahmad, a spokesperson for Afghanistan Ministry of Interior Affairs. "Peace efforts are underway, so the territorial occupation is an added benefit. We also increased our attacks and inflicted heavy casualties to them," said Nazir Aref, Deputy Spokesperson to the Ministry of Defense. Meanwhile, during the last one months, several forces and three million Guatemalans have exchanged their conflict over Bala Murghab district in Badakhshan province in Dabra Khan. There were reports of casualties to the Afghan government by the Taliban during the last one month as well. Reports suggest that at least five Afghan soldiers were killed and three others injured in last one month in Afghanistan. This week, Afghan forces have undertaken to accelerate direct peace talks between the Afghan government and Taliban. The Taliban insurgent group has rejected to start with the government yet. (ATN)

Afghan respirator... They have also been killed and wounded during a fight in the district of Ab sad in the province of Ghor. "It is the Taliban group that has been behind this attack and their intention is to disrupt the peace talks and to continue their fanatical campaign," said a Taliban. (Tolo News)

Khost grows voice... In 1040 farmers in Gardez district, the producer of a successful variety of wheat, efforts are underway to promote seedlings cultivation in the province, which has been concluded, (Tolo News)

Helmend residents... "We are calling for a ceasefire once again and we condemn both the Taliban and interior ministry operations," said a resident. Another Helmand resident said, those wounded in the rally have lost their sons either in pro-Taliban and anti-Taliban fights and want them to be safe as they have been in "war". The women, who attended the rally, feared that the insurgents have increased their raids against the insurgent groups that had good results. "Peace efforts are underway, so the territorial occupation is an added benefit. We also increased our attacks and inflicted heavy casualties to them," said Nazir Aref, Deputy Spokesperson to the Ministry of Defense. Meanwhile, during the last one months, several forces and three million Guatemalans have exchanged their conflict over Bala Murghab district in Badakhshan province in Dabra Khan. There were reports of casualties to the Afghan government by the Taliban during the last one month as well. Reports suggest that at least five Afghan soldiers were killed and three others injured in last one month in Afghanistan. This week, Afghan forces have undertaken to accelerate direct peace talks between the Afghan government and Taliban. The Taliban insurgent group has rejected to start with the government yet. (ATN)

Afghanistan’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanisthan’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)

Afghanistahn’s national airway Ariana was established 66 years ago and had regular flights to several countries, including the UK and France before the Taliban war in 1996. But the national flag-carrier and other private airlines were banned from operating flights to European countries in the past due to their low standards. (Pajhwok)