KABUL - The top Afghan defense officials will be summoned by the Afghan parliament after a deadly attack on the main military base in northern Afghanistan that left scores of soldiers dead.

The lawmakers in the Lower House of the Parliament, Wolesi Jirga, decided to summon the top defense officials during the general session of the parliament today.

The defense ministers, Ministry of Defense, Afghan Army Chief of Staff, commander of the 209th Shaheen Corps, and other senior intelligence officials will be summoned to the House on Wednesday.

The lawmakers have warned to summon the defense officials again if they could not provide satisfactory information and brief the lawmakers regarding the security concerns.

The decision by the lawmakers was taken after a deadly attack on the 209th Shaheen Corps of the Afghan National Army in northern Balkh province.

The attack was launched on Friday noon as hundreds of Afghan soldiers had attended the Friday prayers. A group of at least ten Taliban fighters attacked the base near the northern city of Mazar-e-Sharif.

The Taliban claimed the attack, saying that 24 Afghan soldiers had been killed and 60 others wounded. The Taliban also claimed to have taken 13 soldiers as hostages.
