Residents Darya-I-Sauf-Aibak Road Constructed

Darya-I-Sauf district in northern Samangan province: The 120-kilometer road leading to Aibak, the provincial capital. It is being extended to go to Aibak through Buland district. The road's name was changed in 2012 to commemorate the lead role played by the Aibak residents to drive the Taliban out of the area.

Residents Darya-I-Sauf-Aibak Road Constructed

Darya-I-Sauf district in northern Samangan province: The 120-kilometer road leading to Aibak, the provincial capital. It is being extended to go to Aibak through Buland district. The road's name was changed in 2012 to commemorate the lead role played by the Aibak residents to drive the Taliban out of the area.

Darya-I-Sauf district in northern Samangan province: The 120-kilometer road leading to Aibak, the provincial capital. It is being extended to go to Aibak through Buland district. The road's name was changed in 2012 to commemorate the lead role played by the Aibak residents to drive the Taliban out of the area.