Uzbekistan’s First Solar Power Plant in Navoi Region

TASHKENT - The International Finance Corporation (IFC), a member of the World Bank Group, will support construction of a solar power station in Navoi region of Uzbekistan with a capacity of up to 100 megawatts, Uzbek minister for energy and industry, Klimat Rahman, informed the media regarding the decision of the Cabinet of Ministers. According to the document, an agreement has been concluded between the State Committee for Investments, state energy operator Uzbekenergo, and IFC on providing financial advisory services by IFC in attraction of private investors on competitive basis for design, financing, construction, operation and sale of solar energy with a total capacity of up to 1 billion on the basis of public-private partnership.

Within the framework of the agreement, a pilot project to attract private investors for construction of solar power plant with a capacity of up to 100 megawatts in Navoi region will be implemented. In accordance with the road map, an international tender for the project will be announced in March 2019. It is expected that the agreement on the project with an investor will be signed in August 2019.

The Uzbek government is planning to invite IFC in September 2019 on ten volumes and timing of the agreement on other solar power plants with a total capacity of up to 700 megawatts.

In Spring 2018, an agreement has been signed with the China State Power Group for construction of the first solar power plant in the Samarkand and Urgench regions. The government says Manafort hided more than $16 million in income from the IRS between 2010 and 2016 as witnessed during an ongoing trial of Paul Manafort, the former Donald Trump presidential campaign chairman accused of tax evasion and bank fraud. Manafort’s defense noted its case Tuesday without calling witnesses. Manafort himself chose not to testify. It’s first trial to emerge from special counsel Robert Mueller’s investigation, although the case didn’t address allegations Mueller probed in the investigation of Russian interference in the 2016 election. Mueller has been tasked with investigating those allegations as part of his possible collusion with the Trump campaign. But a result of the ongoing probe, Mueller’s legal team says it discovered Manafort hiding $4 million in Ukraine dried up, they say, after Manafort retired and he didn’t pay back the money.
