LASKHAR GAMA - Seven Taliban fighters were killed and four others wounded on Saturday after they launched coordinated attacks on police check posts in Lashkar Gah, southern Helmand province, an official said on Sunday. Police chief for Lashkar Gah, Lt Col. Jan Agha Dawar told Pajhwok News Agency that the Taliban attacked two police check posts in Qula Sangar area. Seven militants, including two notorious commandos and Mullah Zakran were killed, four others wounded and a police officer arrested.

“The Taliban’s dead bodies are still lying at the scene. The fighters have sent local elders to collect the corpses of their colleagues,” he added. Security forces and civilians remained unhurt in the firefight. Abdul Aziz, a resident of the locality, confirmed. (More on P4, 2)
