Pakistan’s Afghan Policy a ‘Potentially Suicidal Policy’: Ex-Pak Senator

KABUL - A retired Pakistani senator has called the existing policy of Pakistan regarding Afghanistan as ‘potentially suicidal policy’ as he insists that the new strategy of the United States for Afghanistan and Pakistan is a chance to transform Afghanistan to get rid of the flawed policy.

In an opinion editorial published in a local newspaper, The Nation, Khurshid, called the new US strategy as ‘impressive for its clarity, comprehensiveness and nuances’. Khurshid further added “It may be a historic opportunity for Pakistan to get rid of a flawed Afghan policy that has acquired maligned proportions over the time. Even otherwise, this is...”

WASHTINGTON - Exiled leaders from Balochistan province have welcomed the Afghan policy strategy announced by US President Donald Trump and hoped America will act against Pakistan.

“We urge the US government to fulfill its responsibilities to differentiate a...”

Drug Addicts Swarm Nimroz Cemeteries

ZARANJ - Local officials in southwestern Nimroz province say nearly 4,000 drug addicts spend their time in cemeteries and on roadsides in a miserable condition in the provincial capital, Zarang.

Mohammad Ali Ghani, the counternarcotics department head, told a seminar “People’s awareness about drugs here that security forces in coordination with his department and the public health department sometimes collected and transferred addicts to health centers.” He linked the increasing population of...”

EXILED BALUCH LEADERS HAIL TRUMP’S AFGHAN STRATEGY

WASHINGTON: Exiled leaders from Balochistan province have welcomed the Afghan strategy announced by US President Donald Trump and hoped America will act against Pakistan.

“The new US strategy may be ‘potentially suicidal policy’ but it is very much better than the previous US strategy.”

Stopping this from happening may take the years but we are willing to...”

1. In Afghanistan, the US strategy implied on military and commercial support only existed a few months before the 2013 elections. The new US strategy, which is the second phase of the Anti-Terrorism Alliance, is now in place, but it is still unclear how the US will implement it on the ground.

2. Afghanistan is the world’s leading location for opium production, and the US government has long been aware of this fact. The United States has thus attempted to implement its own strategy to reduce the drug trade, but this has been met with significant challenges.

3. The new US strategy is aimed at reducing the drug trade and the related violence, which is a significant problem in Afghanistan. The US government hopes that this strategy will lead to a reduction in the number of drug-related deaths and a decrease in the amount of drugs available on the open market.

4. The new US strategy is expected to be implemented in coordination with the Afghan government, which has shown a willingness to work with the US on this issue. The Afghan government has already taken steps to address the drug trade, but it has been met with significant challenges.

5. The new US strategy is expected to focus on reducing the drug trade through a combination of military and non-military efforts. The US government hopes that this strategy will lead to a reduction in the number of drug-related deaths and a decrease in the amount of drugs available on the open market.
