Terrorism Globally Threaten Human Rights: Abdullah

KABUL - In addition to other issues, the most important obstacle in the way of achieving human rights is terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, Taliban and Daesh, CEO Abdullah Abdulzai said on Saturday.

Abdulzai said every citizen has the right to enjoy fundamental rights in a society and every country needed to observe human rights values for achieving a non-violent society.

The CEO said human rights defending countries and international institutions especially the Human Rights Commissioner for Afghanistan (UNAMA) should stop work immediately.

Abdulzai dismissed by MPs recently the administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers of the administrative committee have not been dismissed by MPs recently.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country besides other issues, the main hurdle in the way of making human rights are terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, Taliban and the newly-emerged Daesh who are out to violate human rights."

"The message quoted the CEO as saying that civil rights especially of women's and child's were being violated by terrorist groups.

He said the Afghan government considered as a top priority ensuring fundamental rights of citizens, protecting human rights especially preventing violence against women in the country.

Meanwhile, the British Embassy in Kabul also marked the Human Rights Day by hosting a reception for human rights.

On this..." (More on P4)...(5)

Parliament Orders Dismissed Ministers to Stop Working

KABUL - Parliament's administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers dismissed by MPs recently must stop working immediately.

Mohammad Tahir Zahir, the committee's secretary, said government's decision to dismiss every year on December 10 celebrated the International Human Rights Day.

He said the day was aimed at supporting human rights' values and promoting and expanding them in the world in order to pave the way for social justice and to defend human rights.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country at supporting human rights' values and promoting and expanding them in the world is to observe the way for social justice and to defend human rights."

Health Contracts Against Procurement Procedure: Ghani

KABUL - President Ashraf Ghani has said contracts for the Basic Package of Health Services (BPHS) and the Essential Package of Health Services (EPHS) in 21 provinces of the country were against the procurement system.

A statement from the President said on Saturday the seven ministers dismissed by MPs recently must stop working immediately.

Abdulzai dismissed by MPs recently the administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers of the administrative committee have not been dismissed by MPs recently.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country besides other issues, the main hurdle in the way of making human rights are terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, Taliban and the newly-emerged Daesh who are out to violate human rights."

"The message quoted the CEO as saying that civil rights especially of women's and child's were being violated by terrorist groups.

He said the Afghan government considered as a top priority ensuring fundamental rights of citizens, protecting human rights especially preventing violence against women in the country.

Meanwhile, the British Embassy in Kabul also marked the Human Rights Day by hosting a reception for human rights.

On this..." (More on P4)...(5)

Parliament Orders Dismissed Ministers to Stop Working

KABUL - Parliament's administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers dismissed by MPs recently must stop working immediately.

Mohammad Tahir Zahir, the committee's secretary, said government's decision to dismiss every year on December 10 celebrated the International Human Rights Day.

He said the day was aimed at supporting human rights' values and promoting and expanding them in the world in order to pave the way for social justice and to defend human rights.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country at supporting human rights' values and promoting and expanding them in the world is to observe the way for social justice and to defend human rights."

Abdulzai dismissed by MPs recently the administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers of the administrative committee have not been dismissed by MPs recently.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country besides other issues, the main hurdle in the way of making human rights are terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, Taliban and the newly-emerged Daesh who are out to violate human rights."

"The message quoted the CEO as saying that civil rights especially of women's and child's were being violated by terrorist groups.

He said the Afghan government considered as a top priority ensuring fundamental rights of citizens, protecting human rights especially preventing violence against women in the country.

Meanwhile, the British Embassy in Kabul also marked the Human Rights Day by hosting a reception for human rights.

On this..." (More on P4)...(5)

Parliament Orders Dismissed Ministers to Stop Working

KABUL - Parliament's administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers dismissed by MPs recently must stop working immediately.

Mohammad Tahir Zahir, the committee's secretary, said government's decision to dismiss every year on December 10 celebrated the International Human Rights Day.

He said the day was aimed at supporting human rights' values and promoting and expanding them in the world in order to pave the way for social justice and to defend human rights.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country besides other issues, the main hurdle in the way of making human rights are terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, Taliban and the newly-emerged Daesh who are out to violate human rights."

"The message quoted the CEO as saying that civil rights especially of women's and child's were being violated by terrorist groups.

He said the Afghan government considered as a top priority ensuring fundamental rights of citizens, protecting human rights especially preventing violence against women in the country.

Meanwhile, the British Embassy in Kabul also marked the Human Rights Day by hosting a reception for human rights.

On this..." (More on P4)...(5)

Parliament Orders Dismissed Ministers to Stop Working

KABUL - Parliament's administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers dismissed by MPs recently must stop working immediately.

Mohammad Tahir Zahir, the committee's secretary, said government's decision to dismiss every year on December 10 celebrated the International Human Rights Day.

He said the day was aimed at supporting human rights' values and promoting and expanding them in the world in order to pave the way for social justice and to defend human rights.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country besides other issues, the main hurdle in the way of making human rights are terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, Taliban and the newly-emerged Daesh who are out to violate human rights."

"The message quoted the CEO as saying that civil rights especially of women's and child's were being violated by terrorist groups.

He said the Afghan government considered as a top priority ensuring fundamental rights of citizens, protecting human rights especially preventing violence against women in the country.

Meanwhile, the British Embassy in Kabul also marked the Human Rights Day by hosting a reception for human rights.

On this..." (More on P4)...(5)

Parliament Orders Dismissed Ministers to Stop Working

KABUL - Parliament's administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers dismissed by MPs recently must stop working immediately.

Mohammad Tahir Zahir, the committee's secretary, said government's decision to dismiss every year on December 10 celebrated the International Human Rights Day.

He said the day was aimed at supporting human rights' values and promoting and expanding them in the world in order to pave the way for social justice and to defend human rights.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country besides other issues, the main hurdle in the way of making human rights are terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, Taliban and the newly-emerged Daesh who are out to violate human rights."

"The message quoted the CEO as saying that civil rights especially of women's and child's were being violated by terrorist groups.

He said the Afghan government considered as a top priority ensuring fundamental rights of citizens, protecting human rights especially preventing violence against women in the country.

Meanwhile, the British Embassy in Kabul also marked the Human Rights Day by hosting a reception for human rights.

On this..." (More on P4)...(5)

Parliament Orders Dismissed Ministers to Stop Working

KABUL - Parliament's administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers dismissed by MPs recently must stop working immediately.

Mohammad Tahir Zahir, the committee's secretary, said government's decision to dismiss every year on December 10 celebrated the International Human Rights Day.

He said the day was aimed at supporting human rights' values and promoting and expanding them in the world in order to pave the way for social justice and to defend human rights.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country besides other issues, the main hurdle in the way of making human rights are terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, Taliban and the newly-emerged Daesh who are out to violate human rights."

"The message quoted the CEO as saying that civil rights especially of women's and child's were being violated by terrorist groups.

He said the Afghan government considered as a top priority ensuring fundamental rights of citizens, protecting human rights especially preventing violence against women in the country.

Meanwhile, the British Embassy in Kabul also marked the Human Rights Day by hosting a reception for human rights.

On this..." (More on P4)...(5)

Parliament Orders Dismissed Ministers to Stop Working

KABUL - Parliament's administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers dismissed by MPs recently must stop working immediately.

Mohammad Tahir Zahir, the committee's secretary, said government's decision to dismiss every year on December 10 celebrated the International Human Rights Day.

He said the day was aimed at supporting human rights' values and promoting and expanding them in the world in order to pave the way for social justice and to defend human rights.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country besides other issues, the main hurdle in the way of making human rights are terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, Taliban and the newly-emerged Daesh who are out to violate human rights."

"The message quoted the CEO as saying that civil rights especially of women's and child's were being violated by terrorist groups.

He said the Afghan government considered as a top priority ensuring fundamental rights of citizens, protecting human rights especially preventing violence against women in the country.

Meanwhile, the British Embassy in Kabul also marked the Human Rights Day by hosting a reception for human rights.

On this..." (More on P4)...(5)

Parliament Orders Dismissed Ministers to Stop Working

KABUL - Parliament's administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers dismissed by MPs recently must stop working immediately.

Mohammad Tahir Zahir, the committee's secretary, said government's decision to dismiss every year on December 10 celebrated the International Human Rights Day.

He said the day was aimed at supporting human rights' values and promoting and expanding them in the world in order to pave the way for social justice and to defend human rights.

However, Abdulzai said: "Unfortunately in our country besides other issues, the main hurdle in the way of making human rights are terrorist groups like Al Qaeda, Taliban and the newly-emerged Daesh who are out to violate human rights."

"The message quoted the CEO as saying that civil rights especially of women's and child's were being violated by terrorist groups.

He said the Afghan government considered as a top priority ensuring fundamental rights of citizens, protecting human rights especially preventing violence against women in the country.

Meanwhile, the British Embassy in Kabul also marked the Human Rights Day by hosting a reception for human rights.

On this..." (More on P4)...(5)

Parliament Orders Dismissed Ministers to Stop Working

KABUL - Parliament's administrative committee said on Sunday that the seven ministers dismissed by MPs recently must stop working immediately.

Mohammad Tahir Zahir, the committee's secretary, said government's decision to dismiss every year on December 10 celebrated the International Human Rights Day.

He said the day was aimed at supporting human rights' values and prom