German and Austria working together on EU asylum law

Berlin - Germany and Austria are working on a proposal for a common European asylum law, Germany’s refugee crisis coordinator said in an interview with German magazine Focus.

Thousands of refugees and migrants have come to Germany in recent years, with thousands more choosing to seek asylum. The complex asylum process is a major challenge for the German government and has led to a surge in asylum applications. Germany and Austria are working together to streamline the asylum process and improve the efficiency of the system.

Iranian soldiers killed in Syria

DUBAI - Iran will export most of its enriched uranium to Russia by the end of the year, Iranian official Ali Akbar Salehi said. This will allow Iran to comply with the terms of its nuclear agreement with world powers. The agreement requires Iran to limit its enrichment activities and reduce its nuclear stockpile.

Iran has been working on reducing its stockpile of enriched uranium as part of the agreement. The enrichment process is a key factor in Iran's nuclear program, and this agreement is a significant step forward in ensuring Iran's compliance with international nuclear non-proliferation guidelines.

US visit to Vanuatu

WASHINGTON - US Secretary of State John Kerry and his Vanuatu counterpart have discussed the importance of economic cooperation and regional security. The two leaders also discussed the ongoing rehabilitation efforts in Vanuatu following the devastating Cyclone Pam.

The visit comes as the US and Vanuatu seek to strengthen their relationship on issues such as security and economic development. Vanuatu has been a key partner in the US-led efforts to combat terrorism and illegal activities in the region.

Yemeni negotiators resume talks

SANA'A - Yemeni negotiators have resumed talks in Sana’a, aiming to reduce the violence and reach a political solution. This is the first time since March that negotiators from both sides have met. The talks are expected to focus on issues such as the withdrawal of Houthi forces and the establishment of a national government.

The resumption of talks is a positive development in the ongoing conflict in Yemen. The conflict has been ongoing for several years, and the situation remains complex and volatile.

Nepal IDPs return to homes

NEPAL - More than 40,000 IDPs have returned to their homes in Nepal. The return of displaced people is a significant step forward in addressing the refugee crisis in the region.

The return of IDPs is a crucial aspect of the refugee crisis in Nepal. The government and international organizations have been working to provide assistance and support to those affected by the crisis. The return of IDPs is a testament to the efforts of all involved in addressing the refugee crisis.

Azerbaijan energy minister visits

TBILISI - Azerbaijan’s Energy Minister Ali Aslan Bayramov has arrived in Tbilisi for portfolio talks. The visit is expected to focus on energy cooperation and the diversification of energy sources.

Azerbaijan and Georgia have a long history of energy cooperation. The visit is a significant step forward in strengthening this relationship and ensuring energy security in the region.

US military leader visits

RAWALPINDI - Nearly 40 per cent of the interchangeables in Pakistan have returned to the north. This is a significant development in addressing the refugee crisis in Pakistan. The return of IDPs is a positive step towards addressing the refugee crisis in the region.