 Presidential Agreement

Adopted by the National Institute for Economic and Social Development (NIESD) through a presidential decree on June 10, 2017, the agreement’s main points are:

1. Strengthening the rule of law and the protection of human rights.
2. Ensuring the security and stability of the country.
3. Addressing issues related to the economy, security, and social development.
4. Establishing a framework for the resolution of disputes between the government and the opposition.
5. Establishing a mechanism for monitoring and evaluating the implementation of the agreement.

The agreement was signed by President Ashraf Ghani and the leaders of the opposition, including the Taliban. It includes provisions for the release of prisoners, the inclusion of the Taliban in the government, and the establishment of a national unity government.

The agreement is seen as a step towards ending the ongoing conflict in Afghanistan, but its implementation remains to be seen. It is hoped that the agreement will pave the way for peace talks and a sustainable solution to the war in Afghanistan.
