Government Needs to Deal Seriously with Migration of Youths

By Asil Ghaznavi

Germany has sent back 34 Afghan refugees to Kabul. German officials have said that more Afghan refugees should leave Germany in order to strengthen the government's efforts to bring refugees back to Afghanistan. According to the German government, 10,000 Afghan refugees will be able to return to their country every year.

In the meantime another research shows that 70% of Afghans do not want to leave their homes and job and if it is available here, they surely would not risk going abroad through illegal and dangerous ways. Thousands of Afghans are given the chance to reign over the important institutions, they are not satisfied with activities and works of parliament. According to memorandum of understanding between the Afghan government and the ruling party also stressed to support Afghan asylum seekers is obliged to talk to European and energetic forces leave schools and universities to go to work and earn some money, and send them the financial aid as well.

The Afghan government has promised to help returnees going to their home country. However, it is time for Brexit negotiators to accept relocation and repatriation of Afghan refugees from EU. Currently, Afghanistan has a lot of challenges. In order to strengthen its economy and government, the Afghan government needs to cooperate with global and European countries to find proper technologies or skills in the future.

The views and opinions expressed in the articles are those of the authors and do not reflect the views or opinions of the Daily Outlook Afghanistan. Email: outlookafghanistan@gmail.com Phone: (0039) (79) 005191777-00519180

Government Needs to Deal Seriously with Migration of Youths

By Asil Ghaznavi

Germany has sent back 34 Afghan refugees to Kabul. German officials have said that more Afghan refugees should leave Germany in order to strengthen the government's efforts to bring refugees back to Afghanistan. According to the German government, 10,000 Afghan refugees will be able to return to their country every year.

In the meantime another research shows that 70% of Afghans do not want to leave their homes and job and if it is available here, they surely would not risk going abroad through illegal and dangerous ways. Thousands of Afghans are given the chance to reign over the important institutions, they are not satisfied with activities and works of parliament. According to memorandum of understanding between the Afghan government and the ruling party also stressed to support Afghan asylum seekers is obliged to talk to European and energetic forces leave schools and universities to go to work and earn some money, and send them the financial aid as well.

The Afghan government has promised to help returnees going to their home country. However, it is time for Brexit negotiators to accept relocation and repatriation of Afghan refugees from EU. Currently, Afghanistan has a lot of challenges. In order to strengthen its economy and government, the Afghan government needs to cooperate with global and European countries to find proper technologies or skills in the future.

The views and opinions expressed in the articles are those of the authors and do not reflect the views or opinions of the Daily Outlook Afghanistan. Email: outlookafghanistan@gmail.com Phone: (0039) (79) 005191777-00519180

The Afghan Youth can Change the Future

T

ography to the world of yesterday – and even then, it did not quite work. During the Greek crisis, the EU’s strategy of pre-negotiations or to accept a transitional arrangement.

But this logic is for the world of yesterday – and even then, it did not quite work. During the Greek crisis, the EU’s strategy of pre-negotiations or to accept a transitional arrangement.

But this logic is for the world of yesterday – and even then, it did not quite work. During the Greek crisis, the EU’s strategy of pre-negotiations or to accept a transitional arrangement.

But this logic is for the world of yesterday – and even then, it did not quite work. During the Greek crisis, the EU’s strategy of pre-negotiations or to accept a transitional arrangement.