Aries (Mar. 22-Apr. 20)

Aries, it’s a new day and a new week. Your current problems are quickly fading into the past and you’re not particularly interested in gazing in the narrow mirror. It’s like there’s a blank canvas before you, waiting for you to sketch the broad strokes of your future before coloring in the details.

Taurus

Taurus, you might wish that you had more stamina today, but you’re not in the mood to run around until you’re exhausted. Instead, clear your schedule and spend some time at home and let your imagination wander to a magical place. Although meditation is beneficial on many levels, it’s not right for you today.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

Gemini, you have a lot of friends and family are extremely important to you today. Staying in touch with your contacts can make your day fly by with social activities. However, it’s not just about doing things together; you look forward to sharing your most personal experiences with those closest to you. You’re eager to deepen a friendship or even build a relationship that will last for a lifetime.

Cancer (June 21-July 20)

Cancer, your spontaneous actions are well and hold today, leading others to admire your confidence. You’re also learning a valuable lesson: however, behavior doesn’t tell the whole story. So be very careful how you frame your true emotions.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22)

Leo, it’s important to keep your family and any other close relationships in mind. You’re out to have a good time today, but you mustn’t neglect the people who mean the most to you.

Virgo (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)

Virgo, although the holiday weekend may be over, you’re unwilling to end the celebration just yet. Far from it, you have plenty of company this time of year in continuing your quest for fun and games. Nevertheless, ignoring your responsibilities is a mistake that can have negative consequences, prompting you to shut down the festivities before they are over.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Libra, someones in your immediate environment seem to have an ax to grind today, and you could be the person they’ll target even if you’re not the actual object of their anger. Although you have every right to stop the conversation before it escalates, you might choose to jump in at any time if you think it will help.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

Sagittarius, although the ‘happy’ weekend may be over, you’re unwilling to end the celebration just yet. Far from it, you have plenty of company this time of year in continuing your quest for fun and games. Nevertheless, ignoring your responsibilities is a mistake that can have negative consequences, prompting you to shut down the festivities before they are over.

Capricorn (Dec. 21-Jan. 19)

Capricorn, your approach to life may not be as bright and spirited as your idea of what people expect you to be. Although you’re hesitant to reveal your thoughts because you’re not interested in dealing with people’s reactions to your help.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

Aquarius, your strong convictions make it nearly impossible to engage in meaningful conversations with other people today. You’re unwilling to compromise your positions, even if it means that you don’t really matter what someone else thinks. Instead, focus on your shared experiences in the present moment.

 Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20)

Pisces, your emotions, intuition and metaphysical subject is never far from your mind. However, your emotional reactions are more practical today, opening the door to conversations about mundane issues such as financial concerns and professional ambitions. Although you’re hesitant to reveal your thoughts because you’re not interested in dealing with people’s reactions to your help.
