This is against Afghanistan's national sovereignty, the peace and prosperity of the Afghan people and the friendship between the two countries and the improvement of the regional situation. In this regard, Pakistan's recent claims about the presence of Daesh in Afghanistan are against the Afghan government's position and interests; Pakistan is trying to achieve its political purposes through such measures.

The statement is indicative of the Afghan government's firm position and its determined posture on national sovereignty, regional peace and cooperation with other countries, particularly in the area of counterterrorism. The Afghan government has always been a strong proponent of peaceful coexistence, bilateral cooperation, and international efforts to achieve its goals in the region.

In this regard, Pakistan must understand that Afghan patience and cooperation do not imply an acceptance of issues that go against Afghanistan's national interests. The Afghan government will continue to cooperate with other countries to achieve its goals and protect its national sovereignty and interests.

The cooperation between the Afghan and Pakistani governments and other regional stakeholders, including neighboring countries, to combat terrorism and promote peace and development in the region is essential. However, this cooperation must be based on mutual respect and understanding of each other's interests and national sovereignty.

The Afghan government calls on Pakistan to reconsider its recent claims and actions, which are not in line with the desired goals of regional peace, cooperation, and development. Pakistan should engage in a dialogue with the Afghan government to clarify its position and work towards a resolution of the regional challenges in a manner that respects the sovereignty of all countries involved.

In conclusion, the Afghan government reiterates its firm position on national sovereignty and the importance of regional cooperation. The Afghan government calls on Pakistan and the international community to support a peaceful, stable, and prosperous Afghanistan by respecting its national sovereignty and interests.
