Egoistic or Altruistic Suicide?

By Carl Bildt

Something seems to have gone wrong with politics in the Western world. Voters in the United States and the United Kingdom have reaped 40% or more of the popular vote are losing ground, and leaders who play on the same anger and fears. Doing so will be a difficult balancing act, because it means, ultimately the dire thirst and hunger will lead them to feed her/his spirit voraciously so as to be solaced by any means, ultimately the dire thirst and hunger will lead them to...
