Afghan, Pak Forces Mulling Simultaneous Raids

JALALABAD - Afghan and Pakistani forces are working on a strategy to conduct simultaneous operations on both sides of the Durand Line to block the movement of militants, an official in eastern Nangarhar province said on Saturday.

Border police official Col. Murtaza Abdurahman told Pajhwok Afghan News that Afghan and Pakistani military officials had reached an agreement on how to conduct the simultaneous operations.

About two weeks ago, a delegation of the Afghan border police traveled to Pakistan and held talks with Pakistani officials about the security situation along the mutual border. (More on Pk-6)

Ulumi Pledges Reforms to Cut Police Death Toll

KABUL - Interior Minister on Saturday assured to introduce tangible reforms in the police force aimed at decreasing fatality rates among the force.

During his visit to inquire about the health of the injured police officer from Nangarhar at Kabul Police Hospital, Nasrullah Ulumi said the ministry had provided all possible facilities for the treatment of the officer.

“We have treatment facilities inside the country for police. We have requested international community to extend further assistance in this regard,” he said.

He added that Afghan National Police (ANP) had... (More on Pk-6)
