President Gives $10,000 in Aid to Khaksar's Family

President Ashraf Ghani on Thursday gave $10,000 in cash assistance to the family of journalist and author Nemat Wahidi, who was shot dead in the northeastern city of Kunduz on Tuesday, in a move to support victims of the attack.

Wahidi was rescued after the attack that killed at least 15 people, including journalists.

Speaking to the press, the government source said that Wahidi is in a stable condition with a few injuries.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with the former Afghan government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Former Governor Kidnapped in Isalmabad Released

ISLAMABAD - The former governor of Frontier province, Naseem Fahimullah, was kidnapped two weeks ago in the capital, but details are unknown, confirmed his son. Speaking to the press, the source said that Wahidi is in the Afghan embassy located in Pakistan.

We do not know who handed him over. His health is good, although he lack a little time, the source added.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with the former governor, who was rescued after a shootout between security forces and the kidnappers in Ranas Josh mall in the city.

The former governor has been known for his advocacy of democracy and called for urgent measures to address the problems in the country.

The major proposals include registration of voters, making the election bodies accountable and the prevention of violence in the country.

US Payments to Afghan Clinics in Attack Caused Inadequate

The United States military is paying hundreds of thousands of dollars to Afghans who were wounded in an attack that killed at least 15 people, including journalists.

The payments, as per the law, will be given to the wounded Afghans to cover their medical expenses.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

A Youth on Mission to Promote Study Culture among Kids

KANDAHAR CITY - The Kandahar Provincial Government has announced the launching of a new education program to promote the study culture among children.

The program is aimed at encouraging children to attend classes and to promote the values of education.

A Afghan Youth, 16, has launched his mobile library to promote the culture of study among children by distributing books to poor children interested in learning.

In an exclusive interview, the Afghan Youth, 16, said he was inspired to launch the mobile library after reading about the importance of education in the Islamic culture.

He said he wants to make sure that children have access to books and other educational materials.

He has already distributed thousands of books and study materials to children in the area.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.

Afghan President arrives in Kunduz

President Ashraf Ghani arrived in Kunduz on Thursday to visit the victims of the attack and to show support to the families of the victims.

The president arrived in Kunduz to meet with the families of the victims and to offer condolences.

The president also expressed his gratitude to the security forces for their efforts in suppressing the attack.

He said that the government is committed to ensuring the safety and security of the people.

Meanwhile, Dunya TV broadcast an interview with a former government official, who was rescued after being shot by the Taliban.