KARUL - The State Department released a statement late on Tuesday emphasizing on hand-shaking between Afghan presidential elections in ac-correspondence with the 'constitutional and legal procedures'.

The Department of State in a statement said it “notes the anouncement on February 18, 2020 by the Independent Election Commission of Afghanistan on the results of the presidential election held September 28, 2019 in favor of President Ashraf Ghanic.”

However, the State Department added in its statement that “Concerns have been raised about the election process.”

“We expect these concerns to be handled in accordance with constitutional and legal proce-sures,” the statement said, adding that “Moving forward, we call on the new government to be inclusive and reflect the aspirations of all Afghans.” This comes as tensions are occurring on political level following the announcement of final elections results on February 18th. The Chief Executive of the Unity

Government and one of the fronrunters of the elections, Abdullah Abdullah rejected the results as “fraudulent” and vowed to establish a parallel government. Meanwhile, the State Department said “The country’s leaders and their supporters should ensure that political debate is carried out in a calm manner, free from the use or threat of violence.”

The statement also added “They should also desist from destabilizing actions, including participatory efforts to establish parallel government institutions consistent with the constitution and rule of law.”

According to State Department “Such moves call into queshi-in the country’s sovereignty and unity that the United States strongly supports.”

On the other hand, the State Department said “The Afghan people...” (More on P4...)

KARUL - H.E. Mr. Raul Ba-wary, Deputy Minister of Culture and Ministry of Information and Culture has ofcially endorsed a new project in the Culture Sector, in an agreement signed between H.E. Mr. Mitsui SULZKA, Ambasdaor of the Embassy of Japan and Mr. Jordan Naidoo, Director of the UNESCO Kabul Office and Representative to the Islamic Republic of Afghanistan. The new project signed “Sustainable Management of the World Heritage Property in Bamiyan - Preparing the Removal of Bamiyan from the List of World Heritage in Danger” has been based on a generous financial support.

The new project just approved provides for new tasks and a collaboration that will ensure that the preservation of this country’s unique and significant cultural heritage.

H.E. Mr. Mitsui SULZKA added that “The Afghan authorities will reaffirm their dignity and pride...” (More on P4...)

* * *

U.S. Confirms Position on Afghan Elections amid Deepening Political Tensions

WASHINGTON - Jens Stolten-berg, the NATO SG, called on all Afghan political actors to refrain taking steps that would escalate tensions and undermine political stability, NATO stated in a state-mament on February 25. The statement quoting Jens said, “I note the final results of last September’s presidential election announced by the Independent Election Commission. I commend the determination of the Afghan people, who exercised their democratic right to vote in the elections, and I pay tribute to the Afghan security forces, who served with professionalism and bravery to preserve the vote.”

Jens-Stoltenberg underlined that any concerns about the electoral process should be addressed according to “constitutional and legal procedures”. Jens called on all Afghan political actors to prevent taking steps that would escalate tensions and undermine political stability. He said, “I urge all Afghans to demonstrate national unity in suppport of the peace process. This is a time when all responsible political actors must engage in dialogue and unite behind the peace process, which is the priority for all Afghans.” The statement also added, “NATO remains firmly comnitted to providing security and stability. We continue to provide the Afghan security forces with training and financial support so that they can fight ter-rorsm and create the conditions for peace.”

EU Team, Gen. Bajwa Talk Reconciliation in Afghanistan

PESHAWAR - A European Union delegation has met Pak-istan’s Chief of Army Staff (COAS) Gen. Qamar Javed Ba-wary and other leaders should ensure that the new government is inclusive and reflects the aspirations of

all Afghans.” (ATN)

NATO: Afghan Politicians Should Stop Escalating Tensions, Undermining Political Stability

ABU DHABI - Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan, Crown Prince of Abu Dhabi and Deputy Supreme Commander of the UAE Armed forces congratulated Ghani’s victory in the election and stressed on the economic and strategic relations between the two countries. Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan, Crown Prince of Abu Dhabi and Deputy Supreme Commander of the UAE armed Forces, congratulated Moham-ned Ashraf Ghani in telephonic conversation on winning a second term as President of Afghanistan, Arg said in a statement.

In this telephonic conversation,

both sides emphasized the development of strategic and ecoomic relations between the two countries, calling the relations of Afghanistan and the United Arab Emi-irates brotherly and friendly. Abu Dhabi Crown Prince hopes that Afghan-UAE relations will be further strengthened during President Mohammad Ashraf Ghani’s second term.

He further added, “This will allow time for necessary consilations so that the best interests of Afghanistan and its people are reflected and preserved by the new government.”

Khalilzad also said, “As the electoral process has concluded, President Ghani, as the declared winner, and other leaders should ensure that the new government is inclusive and reflects the aspirations of all Afghans.” (ATN)

KARUL - The US Special Representative for Afghanistan’s reconstitution, Zalmay Khalilzad said in a tweet on Wednesday that he welcomes President Ghani’s decision to postpone the event until March 9th.

He said, “The Ministry of For-die to Afghanistan has

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will

mural painting, this project will
EU Urges Afghan Politicians to Work Together for Peace

President Ashraf Ghani’s powerful US ally on Wednesday expressed his support for peace talks and encouraged Afghan politicians to work together for the success of the peace process.

A statement from the President’s palace released by Pipavi Afghan News Agency said Ghani met with Roland Kast at his office this morning.

"At the meeting, Kast said: ‘I came to the message to support the Islamic Republic of Afghanistan and its people’s sovereignty, democracy, law enforcement and the government. The EU would be on side of the Afghan state and our assistance would continue.’"

KANDAHAR CITY - Hikmatullah Zadran, who daily visits the Peace Library in Kandahar City, said that the capital of southern Afghanistan was seeing every individual should raise voice for peace so that this issue comes to term.

The library is established by some civil society activists. Besides studying different books in the library, discuss previous events with friends and exchange their views.

"Be, 23, says he desired peace like all youth of the country and insisted every individual should work for peace and raise their voice," he added.

He said the Peace Library offered a peaceful environment for youth in the county of Afghanistan. Referring to a group of youth sitting in the corner, he said: "We are seeing downward trend in violence."

KABUL - Nine civilians were injured when explosion placed in an Afghan capital Kabul on Wednesday, a motorbike went off in Afghan capital Kabul on Wednesday, where the victims had rented a room with two others at a dormitory.

The victims - Dallawar, Hadi - were students and holding the book of class 10 in the dormitory and after four weeks, their family had sent them the book for their studies. Yarzand Balikh, one of the victims told Nusrat Rahimi, a spokesman for Interior Ministry, said that the two brothers were killed by enemies.

"(More on P4-L.)"

Brothers Kill by Roommates in Kabul

Feb 27, 2020 - You may be feeling tired and a bit worried outside. Capricorn, although the stars tell you you are not, even you are forced to admit that this is a time for you to stay in bed. Geese yourself these few hours to recharge and regroup your energy. You’ll need to be energized and alert for all the work that’s likely to be following your path next week.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr.20)

Feb 27, 2020 - Try to do something optimistic and feel your energy rising to new highs. This is a day to stay in bed. Give yourself these few hours to recharge and regroup your energy. You’ll need to be energized and alert for all the work that’s likely to be following your path next week.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr.20)

Feb 27, 2020 - Your career may be side tracked by petty gypsy, rumor, and office politics. It may be that someone is prodding for fear or her agenda without any thought or care for its impact on others. Do you want to put a stop to such shenanigans, Libra? There are times when it’s appropriate to be the whistleblower, and this is one of them.

Libra (Sep 23-Oct. 22)

Feb 27, 2020 - Your career may be side tracked by petty gypsy, rumor, and office politics. It may be that someone is prodding for fear or her agenda without any thought or care for its impact on others. Do you want to put a stop to such shenanigans, Libra? There are times when it’s appropriate to be the whistleblower, and this is one of them.

Libra (Sep 23-Oct. 22)

Feb 27, 2020 - If you’re feeling tired and a bit worried outside. Capricorn, although the stars tell you you are not, even you are forced to admit that this is a time for you to stay in bed. Geese yourself these few hours to recharge and regroup your energy. You’ll need to be energized and alert for all the work that’s likely to be following your path next week.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr.20)

Feb 27, 2020 - If a family member or other loved one may not be telling you the truth, Aries, you are not alone. Many people are in the same boat, even you. But you know you don’t want to believe any of it. The stars tell something that simply doesn’t ring true, check the information yourself - rather than accept it at face value.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sep. 22)

Feb 27, 2020 - If a friend or colleague seems to be in trouble, you may not want to interference for fear of being shut out. But if Virgo, he’s a friend who really does need your help. Listen to him. Anyhow, he’s really due some time to spend alone. Even better, he should see some human being. Too often, he’s not agreeing to see the facts. Be emotionally and physically drained.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

Feb 27, 2020 - Virgo, a friend of yours may be side tracked by petty gypsy, rumor, and office politics. It may be that someone is prodding for fear or her agenda without any thought or care for its impact on others. Do you want to put a stop to such shenanigans, Libra? There are times when it’s appropriate to be the whistleblower, and this is one of them.

Libra (Sep 23-Oct. 22)

Feb 27, 2020 - If you’re feeling tired and a bit worried outside. Capricorn, although the stars tell you you are not, even you are forced to admit that this is a time for you to stay in bed. Geese yourself these few hours to recharge and regroup your energy. You’ll need to be energized and alert for all the work that’s likely to be following your path next week.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr.20)

Feb 27, 2020 - You have an active mind and a strong sense of reality, Gemini. It may be that a computer made an error or a mistake. Even you are forced to admit that this is a time for you to stay in bed. Geese yourself these few hours to recharge and regroup your energy. You’ll need to be energized and alert for all the work that’s likely to be following your path next week.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

Feb 27, 2020 - A family member or other loved one may not be telling you the truth, Aries, you are not alone. Many people are in the same boat, even you. But you know you don’t want to believe any of it. The stars tell something that simply doesn’t ring true, check the information yourself - rather than accept it at face value.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sep. 22)

Feb 27, 2020 - If a friend or colleague seems to be in trouble, you may not want to interference for fear of being shut out. But if Virgo, he’s a friend who really does need your help. Listen to him. Anyhow, he’s really due some time to spend alone. Even better, he should see some human being. Too often, he’s not agreeing to see the facts. Be emotionally and physically drained.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)
Poverty – A Chronic Problem

O ur battle to take down the barriers between the haves and have-nots, as we now know, will fail if we try to tackle the problem in one way or another. It is a crisis that affects not just one country but the entire world. The issue of poverty is a matter of global concern and it is a menace not only to our country but to the world. In fact, the issue of poverty is so serious that it is a matter of concern for the entire world. It is a crisis that affects not just one country but the entire world. The issue of poverty is a matter of global concern and it is a menace not only to our country but to the world. In fact, the issue of poverty is so serious that it is a matter of concern for the entire world.

In the Name of God, the Most Merciful, the Most Kind

Basics of US Nuclear Politics in South Asia

By: Dakine Roykur

S everal days after the nuclear explosion in 1954, India got the confidence to do better. The US responded by testing a nuclear weapon in the United States. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India. The US then responded by testing a nuclear weapon in India. India then undertook a series of nuclear tests, which led to the testing of a nuclear weapon in India.

It’s Now or Never for National Data Strategies

By: Diane Coyne

P eople may seem to agree that data will play a fundamental role in the future of the country – whether in shaping the economy, discovering, diagnosing and treating ills, predicting and responding to natural disasters, and so on. But, when it comes to funding public data, the financial and licensing terms of what can be done with data are often far too restrictive. Governments will need to support the institutions that will be trusted with this data.

In any case, the volume of data being generated annually has grown at a staggering rate, and this is expected to accelerate as the amount of data generated increases. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

Governments will need to support the institutions that will be trusted with this data. Specifically, that means maintaining fair competition in private, data-intensive markets and ensuring that the data is not monopolized. In addition, the analysis of data can be very difficult and time-consuming. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

In any case, the volume of data being generated annually has grown at a staggering rate, and this is expected to accelerate as the amount of data generated increases. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

Governments will need to support the institutions that will be trusted with this data. Specifically, that means maintaining fair competition in private, data-intensive markets and ensuring that the data is not monopolized. In addition, the analysis of data can be very difficult and time-consuming. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

In any case, the volume of data being generated annually has grown at a staggering rate, and this is expected to accelerate as the amount of data generated increases. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

Governments will need to support the institutions that will be trusted with this data. Specifically, that means maintaining fair competition in private, data-intensive markets and ensuring that the data is not monopolized. In addition, the analysis of data can be very difficult and time-consuming. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

In any case, the volume of data being generated annually has grown at a staggering rate, and this is expected to accelerate as the amount of data generated increases. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

Governments will need to support the institutions that will be trusted with this data. Specifically, that means maintaining fair competition in private, data-intensive markets and ensuring that the data is not monopolized. In addition, the analysis of data can be very difficult and time-consuming. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

In any case, the volume of data being generated annually has grown at a staggering rate, and this is expected to accelerate as the amount of data generated increases. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

Governments will need to support the institutions that will be trusted with this data. Specifically, that means maintaining fair competition in private, data-intensive markets and ensuring that the data is not monopolized. In addition, the analysis of data can be very difficult and time-consuming. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

In any case, the volume of data being generated annually has grown at a staggering rate, and this is expected to accelerate as the amount of data generated increases. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

Governments will need to support the institutions that will be trusted with this data. Specifically, that means maintaining fair competition in private, data-intensive markets and ensuring that the data is not monopolized. In addition, the analysis of data can be very difficult and time-consuming. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.

In any case, the volume of data being generated annually has grown at a staggering rate, and this is expected to accelerate as the amount of data generated increases. Therefore, policymakers need to be aware of the potential for data to yield positive externalities. Private companies already derive much of the private-market value.
TUNIS - Tunisia's parliament began debating confidence vote in January.

Problems.

civic institutions for making insulting statements.

Muhammed's coffin was to be airfreighted to the Field Marshal's mausoleum.

A day and engaged in discussions on the resolution's requirement that nuclear state revenue and state security.

A report was leaked affects Saudi national security.

A landmark deal that curbed Tehran's nuclear program.

An Afghan police official was found dead.

a police van and took him to the Louisville police station.

the late musician Prince was known for his flamboyance.

June 27, 2020

From the Reko Diq case.

The late Egyptian President Mubarak who lasted only a year in office before the army toppled him. Mubarak died last year after collapsing in court while on trial on corruption charges.

the new coronavirus amid lockdown in Europe.

the late Egyptian President Mubarak who lasted only a year in office before the army toppled him.

The Indian government has deployed a small army of riot police and security officers to the streets. Photographs show a variety of security personnel being assembled.

The Indian government has deployed a small army of riot police and security officers to the streets. Photographs show a variety of security personnel being assembled.

A new law has been introduced in which the new government。

The Chinese city of Wuhan.

The US forensic team assembled in the city's streets.

The late Egyptian President Mubarak who lasted only a year in office before the army toppled him.

The US forensic team assembled in the city's streets.

The US forensic team assembled in the city's streets.

The US forensic team assembled in the city's streets.

The US forensic team assembled in the city's streets.

The US forensic team assembled in the city's streets.
LONDON - Prince Harry and Meghan, the Duke and Duchess of Sussex, will be in Britain on Wednesday for the first of a round of public engagements and appearances before he and his wife Meghan take a step back from their royal duties.

The Duke of Sussex, who has moved his family to Canada, was pictured arriving in Edinburgh late Tuesday, ahead of a meeting of the nation's private donors involved in his sustainable tourism projects.

On Friday, he will be in London to meet top rock singer Jon Bon Jovi, who organized a special song for the prince’s Invictus Games Foundation for military veterans.

He and Meghan will then join Queen Elizabeth II on March 9 for a Commonwealth Day service at Westminster Abbey, which is expected to be their first official appearance as a married couple.

The prince — the queen's grandson who is fifth in line to the throne — rocked the 88-year-old monarch's normally conservative appearance in a coat by Hackett London.

The prince said that the death sentence was passed on February 27, 2020.

• Saudi Arabia's Ministry of Defense, in a statement on Wednesday, said that the death sentence was passed on February 27, 2020.

U.S. Senator Charged with Assaulting Policeman in Moscow Facing Up to 10 Years in Prison

MOSCOW - Moscow's Golovinsky District Court will begin hearing a criminal case against a U.S. student accused of torturing Trevor Reed from Texas in July 2019.

The trial, which was postponed due to Reed's hospitalization, is expected to last more than a month, with Reed expected to testify in court.

The trial is expected to last for at least two weeks, with Reed currently being held in a prison in Moscow.

Saudi Nationals Sentenced for ‘Offering Intelligence to Iran’

RIYADH - A Saudi criminal court has sentenced two citizens to death and seven others to prison terms for espionage and spying for Iran, state television reported.

The Iranian national sentenced to death was accused of “betraying his country and offering intelligence to Iran,” Al Aman TV reported.

At least 20 killed in Delhi violence as authorities deploy DRONES to monitor ongoing unrest

At least 20 people were killed in a day of violence in India’s capital city of New Delhi on Sunday as authorities deployed drones and armed forces to monitor the ongoing unrest.

Between Thursday night and Sunday, police said they have arrested 22 people and charged 12 others.

Saudis Roughe Up, Hits Back in Feisty Democratic Debate

WASHINGTON - Democratic House Speaker Nancy Pelosi has rounded up a list of House Democrats for a March 5 debate against Republican Senator Tom Cotton of Arkansas, who has proposed a bill to create a United States Senate war powers congressional review act.

Some Democrats are concerned that the bill could undermine the authority of the House of Representatives, which is the first branch of the federal government.

At Least 20 Killed in Delhi Violence as Authorities Deploy DRONES to Monitor Ongoing Unrest

At least 20 people were killed in a day of violence in India’s capital city of New Delhi on Sunday as authorities deployed drones and armed forces to monitor the ongoing unrest.

Between Thursday night and Sunday, police said they have arrested 22 people and charged 12 others.

Saudis Roughe Up, Hits Back in Feisty Democratic Debate

WASHINGTON - Democratic House Speaker Nancy Pelosi has rounded up a list of House Democrats for a March 5 debate against Republican Senator Tom Cotton of Arkansas, who has proposed a bill to create a United States Senate war powers congressional review act.

Some Democrats are concerned that the bill could undermine the authority of the House of Representatives, which is the first branch of the federal government.

At Least 20 Killed in Delhi Violence as Authorities Deploy DRONES to Monitor Ongoing Unrest

At least 20 people were killed in a day of violence in India’s capital city of New Delhi on Sunday as authorities deployed drones and armed forces to monitor the ongoing unrest.

Between Thursday night and Sunday, police said they have arrested 22 people and charged 12 others.

Saudis Roughe Up, Hits Back in Feisty Democratic Debate

WASHINGTON - Democratic House Speaker Nancy Pelosi has rounded up a list of House Democrats for a March 5 debate against Republican Senator Tom Cotton of Arkansas, who has proposed a bill to create a United States Senate war powers congressional review act.

Some Democrats are concerned that the bill could undermine the authority of the House of Representatives, which is the first branch of the federal government.

At Least 20 Killed in Delhi Violence as Authorities Deploy DRONES to Monitor Ongoing Unrest

At least 20 people were killed in a day of violence in India’s capital city of New Delhi on Sunday as authorities deployed drones and armed forces to monitor the ongoing unrest.

Between Thursday night and Sunday, police said they have arrested 22 people and charged 12 others.

Saudis Roughe Up, Hits Back in Feisty Democratic Debate

WASHINGTON - Democratic House Speaker Nancy Pelosi has rounded up a list of House Democrats for a March 5 debate against Republican Senator Tom Cotton of Arkansas, who has proposed a bill to create a United States Senate war powers congressional review act.

Some Democrats are concerned that the bill could undermine the authority of the House of Representatives, which is the first branch of the federal government.

At Least 20 Killed in Delhi Violence as Authorities Deploy DRONES to Monitor Ongoing Unrest

At least 20 people were killed in a day of violence in India’s capital city of New Delhi on Sunday as authorities deployed drones and armed forces to monitor the ongoing unrest.

Between Thursday night and Sunday, police said they have arrested 22 people and charged 12 others.

Saudis Roughe Up, Hits Back in Feisty Democratic Debate

WASHINGTON - Democratic House Speaker Nancy Pelosi has rounded up a list of House Democrats for a March 5 debate against Republican Senator Tom Cotton of Arkansas, who has proposed a bill to create a United States Senate war powers congressional review act.

Some Democrats are concerned that the bill could undermine the authority of the House of Representatives, which is the first branch of the federal government.

At Least 20 Killed in Delhi Violence as Authorities Deploy DRONES to Monitor Ongoing Unrest

At least 20 people were killed in a day of violence in India’s capital city of New Delhi on Sunday as authorities deployed drones and armed forces to monitor the ongoing unrest.

Between Thursday night and Sunday, police said they have arrested 22 people and charged 12 others.

Saudis Roughe Up, Hits Back in Feisty Democratic Debate

WASHINGTON - Democratic House Speaker Nancy Pelosi has rounded up a list of House Democrats for a March 5 debate against Republican Senator Tom Cotton of Arkansas, who has proposed a bill to create a United States Senate war powers congressional review act.

Some Democrats are concerned that the bill could undermine the authority of the House of Representatives, which is the first branch of the federal government.

At Least 20 Killed in Delhi Violence as Authorities Deploy DRONES to Monitor Ongoing Unrest

At least 20 people were killed in a day of violence in India’s capital city of New Delhi on Sunday as authorities deployed drones and armed forces to monitor the ongoing unrest.

Between Thursday night and Sunday, police said they have arrested 22 people and charged 12 others.

Saudis Roughe Up, Hits Back in Feisty Democratic Debate

WASHINGTON - Democratic House Speaker Nancy Pelosi has rounded up a list of House Democrats for a March 5 debate against Republican Senator Tom Cotton of Arkansas, who has proposed a bill to create a United States Senate war powers congressional review act.

Some Democrats are concerned that the bill could undermine the authority of the House of Representatives, which is the first branch of the federal government.

At Least 20 Killed in Delhi Violence as Authorities Deploy DRONES to Monitor Ongoing Unrest

At least 20 people were killed in a day of violence in India’s capital city of New Delhi on Sunday as authorities deployed drones and armed forces to monitor the ongoing unrest.

Between Thursday night and Sunday, police said they have arrested 22 people and charged 12 others.

Saudis Roughe Up, Hits Back in Feisty Democratic Debate

WASHINGTON - Democratic House Speaker Nancy Pelosi has rounded up a list of House Democrats for a March 5 debate against Republican Senator Tom Cotton of Arkansas, who has proposed a bill to create a United States Senate war powers congressional review act.

Some Democrats are concerned that the bill could undermine the authority of the House of Representatives, which is the first branch of the federal government.

At Least 20 Killed in Delhi Violence as Authorities Deploy DRONES to Monitor Ongoing Unrest

At least 20 people were killed in a day of violence in India’s capital city of New Delhi on Sunday as authorities deployed drones and armed forces to monitor the ongoing unrest.

Between Thursday night and Sunday, police said they have arrested 22 people and charged 12 others.

Saudis Roughe Up, Hits Back in Feisty Democratic Debate

WASHINGTON - Democratic House Speaker Nancy Pelosi has rounded up a list of House Democrats for a March 5 debate against Republican Senator Tom Cotton of Arkansas, who has proposed a bill to create a United States Senate war powers congressional review act.

Some Democrats are concerned that the bill could undermine the authority of the House of Representatives, which is the first branch of the federal government.
Trump Talks About India’s Position on Signing of Peace Deal Between the U.S. And Taliban

KABUL - President Ghani on Tuesday night ordered the Finance Ministry to provide $15M to the Ministry of Public Health to fund coronavirus prevention efforts, the Presidential Palace said in a statement. The move comes after President Ghani chaired a special meeting with Ferozuddin Feroz, minister of public health, and Hamdullah Mohib, national security advisor, as well as other government officials, to discuss the issue after the Health Ministry on Sunday confirmed the first coronavirus case in the western province of Herat.

At the meeting, government present were ordered to launch awareness programs to the public in the provinces to prevent the outbreak of the virus, according to the statement.

"The working group is charged with coordinating with the private sector (with hospitals, other medical organizations) in order to prevent the outbreak of the coronavirus, and to coordinate with the government," Ghani said at the meeting, according to the statement. On Wednesday morning, the minister of public health said that 9 suspected coronavirus cases have tested negative in Herat province.

"So far we only have one confirmed coronavirus case, which is in Herat and it is the only one in Afghanistan," he said.

The Health Ministry also announced that cases that were originally considered possible instances of coronavirus in Ghor, Kabul and Helmand provinces, ultimately tested negative.

The one... (More on P4)...