Afghanistan is not a Threat to Any Country

President Ashraf Ghani

KABUL - Afghanistan is not a threat to any country, Ghani said on Monday.

He was speaking at the ceremony marking the National Day of Security Forces held at the Kabul military airport. In his speech, he paid tribute to the sacrifices of security forces as they face the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend the country.

Ghani added, “The Afghan people have shown their love and respect for us. Our forces have shown their dedication and commitment to the country.”

KABUL, NatoUS commender in Afghanistan Gen. John Nicholson says they remain committed to a stable and prosperous Afghanistan. In his message on Sellers’ Day, Nicholson said, “We honor the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend their country.”

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR) is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 162 states. The treaty guarantees a wide range of civil and political rights, including freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and the right to a fair trial.

Ghani added, “The Afghan security forces have proved their dedication and commitment to the country.”

The Afghan authorities have expressed their gratitude to the international community for their support.

President Ashraf Ghani

KABUL - Afghanistan is not a threat to any country, Ghani said on Monday.

He was speaking at the ceremony marking the National Day of Security Forces held at the Kabul military airport. In his speech, he paid tribute to the sacrifices of security forces as they face the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend the country.

Ghani added, “The Afghan people have shown their love and respect for us. Our forces have shown their dedication and commitment to the country.”

KABUL, NatoUS commender in Afghanistan Gen. John Nicholson says they remain committed to a stable and prosperous Afghanistan. In his message on Sellers’ Day, Nicholson said, “We honor the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend their country.”

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR) is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 162 states. The treaty guarantees a wide range of civil and political rights, including freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and the right to a fair trial.

Ghani added, “The Afghan security forces have proved their dedication and commitment to the country.”

The Afghan authorities have expressed their gratitude to the international community for their support.

Afghanistan is not a Threat to Any Country

President Ashraf Ghani

KABUL - Afghanistan is not a threat to any country, Ghani said on Monday.

He was speaking at the ceremony marking the National Day of Security Forces held at the Kabul military airport. In his speech, he paid tribute to the sacrifices of security forces as they face the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend the country.

Ghani added, “The Afghan people have shown their love and respect for us. Our forces have shown their dedication and commitment to the country.”

KABUL, NatoUS commender in Afghanistan Gen. John Nicholson says they remain committed to a stable and prosperous Afghanistan. In his message on Sellers’ Day, Nicholson said, “We honor the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend their country.”

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR) is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 162 states. The treaty guarantees a wide range of civil and political rights, including freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and the right to a fair trial.

Ghani added, “The Afghan security forces have proved their dedication and commitment to the country.”

The Afghan authorities have expressed their gratitude to the international community for their support.

President Ashraf Ghani

KABUL - Afghanistan is not a threat to any country, Ghani said on Monday.

He was speaking at the ceremony marking the National Day of Security Forces held at the Kabul military airport. In his speech, he paid tribute to the sacrifices of security forces as they face the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend the country.

Ghani added, “The Afghan people have shown their love and respect for us. Our forces have shown their dedication and commitment to the country.”

KABUL, NatoUS commender in Afghanistan Gen. John Nicholson says they remain committed to a stable and prosperous Afghanistan. In his message on Sellers’ Day, Nicholson said, “We honor the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend their country.”

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR) is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 162 states. The treaty guarantees a wide range of civil and political rights, including freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and the right to a fair trial.

Ghani added, “The Afghan security forces have proved their dedication and commitment to the country.”

The Afghan authorities have expressed their gratitude to the international community for their support.

President Ashraf Ghani

KABUL - Afghanistan is not a threat to any country, Ghani said on Monday.

He was speaking at the ceremony marking the National Day of Security Forces held at the Kabul military airport. In his speech, he paid tribute to the sacrifices of security forces as they face the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend the country.

Ghani added, “The Afghan people have shown their love and respect for us. Our forces have shown their dedication and commitment to the country.”

KABUL, NatoUS commender in Afghanistan Gen. John Nicholson says they remain committed to a stable and prosperous Afghanistan. In his message on Sellers’ Day, Nicholson said, “We honor the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend their country.”

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR) is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 162 states. The treaty guarantees a wide range of civil and political rights, including freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and the right to a fair trial.

Ghani added, “The Afghan security forces have proved their dedication and commitment to the country.”

The Afghan authorities have expressed their gratitude to the international community for their support.

President Ashraf Ghani

KABUL - Afghanistan is not a threat to any country, Ghani said on Monday.

He was speaking at the ceremony marking the National Day of Security Forces held at the Kabul military airport. In his speech, he paid tribute to the sacrifices of security forces as they face the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend the country.

Ghani added, “The Afghan people have shown their love and respect for us. Our forces have shown their dedication and commitment to the country.”

KABUL, NatoUS commender in Afghanistan Gen. John Nicholson says they remain committed to a stable and prosperous Afghanistan. In his message on Sellers’ Day, Nicholson said, “We honor the Afghan security forces who sacrificed their lives to defend their country.”

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR) is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 162 states. The treaty guarantees a wide range of civil and political rights, including freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and the right to a fair trial.

Ghani added, “The Afghan security forces have proved their dedication and commitment to the country.”

The Afghan authorities have expressed their gratitude to the international community for their support.

Quote of the Day

“Let me assure our Afghan brothers that we would continue to contribute to the ECO efforts to provide assistance to Afghanistan,” the official added.

Pakistan has always attached immense importance to the organisation and its objective as our active role in the ECO,” he said.

Economic integration and connectivity among the member countries, especially between the two main pillars of galestorm economies; China and the ECO, should open up new trade opportunities, expand trade, enhance intra-regional and extra-regional prosperity in the region, he added. (Pajhwok)

Municipal Staff Beat Up In Kabul by Private Company

KABUL - The Kabul Capital Authority (KCA) on Monday marked the commencement of the 13th ECO Summit in Islamabad, reaffirmed its commitment to the region’s economic development and connectivity. Pakistan says it has attached immense importance to the organisation and its objective as its active role in the ECO.

Municipal Staff Beat Up In Kabul by Private Company

KABUL - The Kabul Capital Authority (KCA) on Monday marked the commencement of the 13th ECO Summit in Islamabad, reaffirmed its commitment to the region’s economic development and connectivity. Pakistan says it has attached immense importance to the organisation and its objective as its active role in the ECO.

Municipal Staff Beat Up In Kabul by Private Company

KABUL - The Kabul Capital Authority (KCA) on Monday marked the commencement of the 13th ECO Summit in Islamabad, reaffirmed its commitment to the region’s economic development and connectivity. Pakistan says it has attached immense importance to the organisation and its objective as its active role in the ECO.

Municipal Staff Beat Up In Kabul by Private Company

KABUL - The Kabul Capital Authority (KCA) on Monday marked the commencement of the 13th ECO Summit in Islamabad, reaffirmed its commitment to the region’s economic development and connectivity. Pakistan says it has attached immense importance to the organisation and its objective as its active role in the ECO.

Municipal Staff Beat Up In Kabul by Private Company

KABUL - The Kabul Capital Authority (KCA) on Monday marked the commencement of the 13th ECO Summit in Islamabad, reaffirmed its commitment to the region’s economic development and connectivity. Pakistan says it has attached immense importance to the organisation and its objective as its active role in the ECO.

Municipal Staff Beat Up In Kabul by Private Company

KABUL - The Kabul Capital Authority (KCA) on Monday marked the commencement of the 13th ECO Summit in Islamabad, reaffirmed its commitment to the region’s economic development and connectivity. Pakistan says it has attached immense importance to the organisation and its objective as its active role in the ECO.

Municipal Staff Beat Up In Kabul by Private Company

KABUL - The Kabul Capital Authority (KCA) on Monday marked the commencement of the 13th ECO Summit in Islamabad, reaffirmed its commitment to the region’s economic development and connectivity. Pakistan says it has attached immense importance to the organisation and its objective as its active role in the ECO.

Municipal Staff Beat Up In Kabul by Private Company

KABUL - The Kabul Capital Authority (KCA) on Monday marked the commencement of the 13th ECO Summit in Islamabad, reaffirmed its commitment to the region’s economic development and connectivity. Pakistan says it has attached immense importance to the organisation and its objective as its active role in the ECO.