New Economic Ties
By Muhammad Zahir Akbari

The sale of Afghanistan’s stability, the neighbors, though motivated to do something for the country, did not reflect the views or opinions of the Daily Outlook Afghanistan.

Chairman / Editor-in-Chief: Dr. Hussain Yasa
Assistant Editor-in-Chief: Afzal Ahsan
Editor: Zia Ul-Haq
Deputy Editor: Mohammad Ali Ehsas
Editorial: ali@outlookafghanistan.net
Financial: mohammad@outlookafghanistan.net
Advertisement: hamid@outlookafghanistan.net
Editorial: july@outlookafghanistan.net
Production: shahab@outlookafghanistan.net

January 05, 2017

New Economic Ties
By Muhammad Zahir Akbari

Syria’s War – An Infected Wound
By Hujjatul Zia

The heart-wrenching stories of war victims and disgusting scenes of war and atrocities have contributed to the public’s suffering and the physical and mental destruction of Syria. The war has caused the country to lose its wealth and livelihood, and has led to the destruction of its infrastructure and the deaths of many civilians.

The war has caused the country to lose its wealth and livelihood, and has led to the destruction of its infrastructure and the deaths of many civilians.

In the current state of the war, Syria’s economy is in a state of collapse, and the country is facing a severe economic crisis. The country is依靠 external assistance to meet its basic needs, and the war has caused a significant reduction in trade and investment. The war has also led to a significant increase in the cost of living, and the country is struggling to meet the basic needs of its citizens.

The war has caused the country to lose its wealth and livelihood, and has led to the destruction of its infrastructure and the deaths of many civilians.

In the current state of the war, Syria’s economy is in a state of collapse, and the country is facing a severe economic crisis. The country is依靠 external assistance to meet its basic needs, and the war has caused a significant reduction in trade and investment. The war has also led to a significant increase in the cost of living, and the country is struggling to meet the basic needs of its citizens.

The war has caused the country to lose its wealth and livelihood, and has led to the destruction of its infrastructure and the deaths of many civilians.

In the current state of the war, Syria’s economy is in a state of collapse, and the country is facing a severe economic crisis. The country is依靠 external assistance to meet its basic needs, and the war has caused a significant reduction in trade and investment. The war has also led to a significant increase in the cost of living, and the country is struggling to meet the basic needs of its citizens.

The war has caused the country to lose its wealth and livelihood, and has led to the destruction of its infrastructure and the deaths of many civilians.

In the current state of the war, Syria’s economy is in a state of collapse, and the country is facing a severe economic crisis. The country is依靠 external assistance to meet its basic needs, and the war has caused a significant reduction in trade and investment. The war has also led to a significant increase in the cost of living, and the country is struggling to meet the basic needs of its citizens.

The war has caused the country to lose its wealth and livelihood, and has led to the destruction of its infrastructure and the deaths of many civilians.

In the current state of the war, Syria’s economy is in a state of collapse, and the country is facing a severe economic crisis. The country is依靠 external assistance to meet its basic needs, and the war has caused a significant reduction in trade and investment. The war has also led to a significant increase in the cost of living, and the country is struggling to meet the basic needs of its citizens.

The war has caused the country to lose its wealth and livelihood, and has led to the destruction of its infrastructure and the deaths of many civilians.

In the current state of the war, Syria’s economy is in a state of collapse, and the country is facing a severe economic crisis. The country is依靠 external assistance to meet its basic needs, and the war has caused a significant reduction in trade and investment. The war has also led to a significant increase in the cost of living, and the country is struggling to meet the basic needs of its citizens.