Residents Claim 10 Civilians Killed in Jawzjan Airstrike

SHERBERGHAN - Some residents of Faryab province, in the north of Afghanistan, on Friday claimed that at least 10 civilians were killed and four others wounded in an airstrike in Jawzjan's Darazab district.

The residents claimed that the airstrike was carried out by coalition forces.

The Resolute Support Mission in Afghanistan has not confirmed the report.

The residents said they went to Jawzjan to minimize the release of an imam who was taken hostage by Dush and was under custody in Qikafamalai, a designated commander of Dush, house in the area, which was targeted by the airstrike.

The residents claimed that the imam was abducted from Faryab's Sharif Tagab district and was taken to Jawzjan.

At least 14 people from Shirin Tagab and Darazab districts went to meet Hekmatullah to secure the release of the imam. Those wounded in the alleged airstrike said Dush militants were also killed in the airstrike.

“Ashh sitting in the room and drinking tea, the ceiling collapsed and we did not realize what happened next. We had went there for media coverage. Four people have been wounded and 10 others killed,” Ahmadi, a resident of Faryab, said.

They feared that the airstrike left civilians dead and wounded.

The United Nations office in Afghanistan recently noted that the number of civilian fatalities has increased following the rise in airstrikes.

Faryab officials have not commented on the report so far. (ToloNews)
