AAF Makes Progress but Challenges Still Remain

KABUL - The pentagon's inspector general has said US coalition forces made progress in training the Afghan national army, but that work still needed to be done concerning strategic planning and other logistical and maintenance requirements, according to a media report on Saturday.

The report, released on Thursday, noted that the AAF has garnered "notable accomplishments." "Going Embrace...

KABUL - The Ministry of Justice (MoJ) said on Saturday 3,526 acres of land this year has been stopped from being usurped after unexhausted efforts, were able to prevent the usurpation of over 3,500 acres of land, including 4,209 square metres of commercial. (More on P4,10)

Gaiami Moves to Bring Inclusive Peace Talks

KABUL - The Chairman of the Hizb-e-Mujahideen party, Sayed Abdul Hadi Gaiami, said on Saturday that he, along with religious scholars, will soon form a delegation to engage in talks with the leaders of the Taliban that will be followed by meetings with countries that have been involved in the Afghanistan situation to talk about bringing peace and stability in Afghanistan, Gaiami said addressing a gathering of religious scholars in Kabul.

Participants of the gathering said hundreds of religious scholars have come together under Gaami's leadership and will hold talks with Taliban leaders to bring peace to Afghanistan.

KABUL - The Election Commission Selection Committee has received applications from 37 applicants for membership of the Independent Election Commission (IEC), officials said.

The commission will send three names from the list of applicants to President Ashraf Ghani within the next few days, Jawed Rasheed, head of the committee told a meeting on Saturday.

The report, released on Thursday, noted that the AAF has garnered "notable accomplishments." "Going Embrace...

The problem is that political considerations are in party and, as you know, the electoral process is not directly based on technical or legal" said Abdul Hadi Stali, member of the selection committee.

Committee Receives 57 Applications for IEC Post

KABUL - While facing a variety of challenges and threats, some girls in Kandahar province are managing to gain a modern education in a central learning. However, in southern parts of the country girls continue to be deprived of education due to some custom and Islamic threats. Despite the challenges they face, they are striving to receive modern education.

Southern Kandahar province girls and women said that they are ready to accept all challenges to gain their rights and continue their education.

Kabul, one of the provinces where a number of female students and girls graduate from schools annually. They are concerned about their future and say that most of their children are not going to school.

Gaiami Moves to Bring Inclusive Peace Talks

KABUL - The Chairman of the Hizb-e-Mujahideen party, Sayed Abdul Hadi Gaiami, said on Saturday that he, along with religious scholars, will soon form a delegation to engage in talks with the leaders of the Taliban that will be followed by meetings with countries that have been involved in the Afghanistan situation to talk about bringing peace and stability in Afghanistan, Gaiami said addressing a gathering of religious scholars in Kabul. Participants of the gathering said hundreds of religious scholars have come together under Gaami's leadership and will hold talks with Taliban leaders to bring peace to Afghanistan.

KABUL - The Election Commission Selection Committee has received applications from 37 applicants for membership of the Independent Election Commission (IEC), officials said.

The commission will send three names from the list of applicants to President Ashraf Ghani within the next few days, Jawed Rasheed, head of the committee told a meeting on Saturday.

The report, released on Thursday, noted that the AAF has garnered "notable accomplishments." "Going Embrace...

The problem is that political considerations are in party and, as you know, the electoral process is not directly based on technical or legal" said Abdul Hadi Stali, member of the selection committee.

Committee Receives 57 Applications for IEC Post

KABUL - While facing a variety of challenges and threats, some girls in Kandahar province are managing to gain a modern education in a central learning. However, in southern parts of the country girls continue to be deprived of education due to some custom and Islamic threats. Despite the challenges they face, they are striving to receive modern education.

Southern Kandahar province girls and women said that they are ready to accept all challenges to gain their rights and continue their education.

Kabul, one of the provinces where a number of female students and girls graduate from schools annually. They are concerned about their future and say that most of their children are not going to school.

Gaiami Moves to Bring Inclusive Peace Talks

KABUL - The Chairman of the Hizb-e-Mujahideen party, Sayed Abdul Hadi Gaiami, said on Saturday that he, along with religious scholars, will soon form a delegation to engage in talks with the leaders of the Taliban that will be followed by meetings with countries that have been involved in the Afghanistan situation to talk about bringing peace and stability in Afghanistan, Gaiami said addressing a gathering of religious scholars in Kabul. Participants of the gathering said hundreds of religious scholars have come together under Gaami's leadership and will hold talks with Taliban leaders to bring peace to Afghanistan.

KABUL - The Election Commission Selection Committee has received applications from 37 applicants for membership of the Independent Election Commission (IEC), officials said.

The commission will send three names from the list of applicants to President Ashraf Ghani within the next few days, Jawed Rasheed, head of the committee told a meeting on Saturday.

The report, released on Thursday, noted that the AAF has garnered "notable accomplishments." "Going Embrace...

The problem is that political considerations are in party and, as you know, the electoral process is not directly based on technical or legal" said Abdul Hadi Stali, member of the selection committee.

Committee Receives 57 Applications for IEC Post

KABUL - While facing a variety of challenges and threats, some girls in Kandahar province are managing to gain a modern education in a central learning. However, in southern parts of the country girls continue to be deprived of education due to some custom and Islamic threats. Despite the challenges they face, they are striving to receive modern education.

Southern Kandahar province girls and women said that they are ready to accept all challenges to gain their rights and continue their education.

Kabul, one of the provinces where a number of female students and girls graduate from schools annually. They are concerned about their future and say that most of their children are not going to school.