KABUL - An International Media Conference held in Kabul on Wednesday said insecurity and using health facilities as bastions by militants were major challenges hindering their activities.

KABUL - National and international institutes offering healthcare services on Wednesday said insecurity and using health facilities as bastions by militants were major challenges hindering their activities.

KABUL - An International Media Conference held in Kabul on Wednesday said insecurity and using health facilities as bastions by militants were major challenges hindering their activities.

KABUL - An International Media Conference held in Kabul on Wednesday said insecurity and using health facilities as bastions by militants were major challenges hindering their activities.

KABUL - An International Media Conference held in Kabul on Wednesday said insecurity and using health facilities as bastions by militants were major challenges hindering their activities.

KABUL - An International Media Conference held in Kabul on Wednesday said insecurity and using health facilities as bastions by militants were major challenges hindering their activities.

KABUL - An International Media Conference held in Kabul on Wednesday said insecurity and using health facilities as bastions by militants were major challenges hindering their activities.

KABUL - An International Media Conference held in Kabul on Wednesday said insecurity and using health facilities as bastions by militants were major challenges hindering their activities.

KABUL - An International Media Conference held in Kabul on Wednesday said insecurity and using health facilities as bastions by militants were major challenges hindering their activities.