When you close your doors, and make darkness within, remember never to say that you are alone, for you are not alone. Remember there is light. And we want there will be light. And what need have they of light to see what you are doing?

Loneliness is the deepest human experience. It is the experience of each one of us, whether single or married, whether for a short period of time or for an extended period of time. Here, in the field of Loneliness, I believe that loneliness is, at its root, a spiritual issue. But often we define loneliness in physical terms, but how one can even define loneliness in spiritual terms? Loneliness can be defined by the absence of people whether physically or emotionally or spiritually. When I talk about loneliness these days, it is the inability of the world to feel live and to experience a spiritual ecstasy. People who fear being alone, are people who are afraid to look into the face of loneliness.

The monster you see reflecting back at you is your own image. Living in denial causes loneliness. You will have a lot of company in the light of day, but when darkness falls and you have to be with yourself, you will be alone. Learn how to accept the consequences of your actions. Making peace within the only way to reach spiritual maturity.

Right now, there are people all over the world who are just like you. They're lonely. They're missing somebody. They're in love. They have secrets with people they probably shouldn't be in love with. They have secrets, you would feel the same. They would wonder if you would look out the window whenever they’re in the car on a bus, or a train they would wonder why you’re walking on the streets and wonder what they’ve been through. They wonder if there are people out there like them, that they would understand them, and they would understand you. You’re never alone.

When I lived in London, there was a time when we were lonely. We were lonely in our daily life. The more it expands among friends and the daily habits of people. The more it expands among friends and the daily habits of people. The more it expands among friends and the daily habits of people.

The rest of the West, too, is likely to experience the aftershocks. In the UK, the ultra-right UK Independence Party is likely to use the event as a more persuasive argument in its campaign against Loneliness.

Paris Attack Added into Muslims’ Miseries

On November 13, three masked gunman attacked and killed the editorial staff of a weekly critical journal Charlie Hebdo, which ridiculed Judaeophobia and Islam. Following the incidence, they did not only leave behind blood and death that of the world but also created shudders and a number of elite cartoonists of France, but also a very worrying situation of the Muslim community of the world. The rampart of a renowned terrorist group of al-Qaeda and Islamic State extremism was adhered to them to finish with “Islam against the Muslims” or fac face attacks, in comments related to Islam.

It is unearthed that the reason behind the daylight massacre is said to be the publication of highly provocative cartoons published in the French capital. A sea of humanity flowed through Paris’ streets as world leaders marched together through Paris Sunday in a solemn tribute to the victims.
