A new political stance, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and collaboration between Russia and North Korea.
Concerning the new political stances, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors
can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and
collaboration between Russia and North Korea.
Concerning the new political stances, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors
can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and
collaboration between Russia and North Korea.
Concerning the new political stances, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors
can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and
collaboration between Russia and North Korea.
Concerning the new political stances, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors
can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and
collaboration between Russia and North Korea.
Concerning the new political stances, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors
can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and
collaboration between Russia and North Korea.
Concerning the new political stances, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors
can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and
collaboration between Russia and North Korea.
Concerning the new political stances, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors
can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and
collaboration between Russia and North Korea.
Concerning the new political stances, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors
can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and
collaboration between Russia and North Korea.
Concerning the new political stances, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors
can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and
collaboration between Russia and North Korea.
Concerning the new political stances, it seems that Afghanistan is entering a new chapter of crises. Since beginning of 2017, security situation and its relation with the United States, Russia and China, has taken a turn for the worse. A number of factors
can be cited as key drivers: Russia-U.S. tension, North Korea-United States orientation, and
collaboration between Russia and North Korea.