President Ashraf Ghani on Wednesday left Kabul for Davos to attend the World Economic Forum on its 3rd day. He added the president also would address a debate on the country’s economic growth and the Afghanistans role in regional connectivity. Ghani will also attend a banquet to be hosted by the World Economic Forum’s chief along with other international leaders (Pajhwok).