Russia’s Envoy to Afghanistan in Pakistan to Discuss Peace

KABUL - US Special Representative for Afghan Peace Ambassador Zalmay Khalilzad has said no one had a monopoly on the diplomacy of peace and all have contributed to good discussions and new ideas.

Khalilzad held separate meetings with Afghanistan High Peace Council Chairman Karim Khalili, UN Secretary-General’s Special Representative for Afghan Peace, and ambassadors of some countries in Kabul.

After the meetings, the diplomatic said he had briefed the officials on the latest round of peace negotiations with Taliban representatives in Doha, the capital of Qatar. "We welcome the US resolve to launch the peace process in Afghanistan," Khalilzad said "significant progress" had been made at the meetings with the Taliban delegation in Doha.

Khalilzad briefed Afghan, UN officials on Doha Talks

KABUL - Amid stepped-up efforts for ending the 18-year conflict, Italian troops may be withdrawn from Afghanistan within a year, says a media report.

"Defence Minister (Elisa) Brenta has instructed the Interforce Operating Commander (COI) to assess an Italian troop pullout from Afghanistan," the defence minister’s report said.

It was only an assessment by the competent minister, insisted that no decision had been taken so far on the troop pullout. It was an assessment by the Interforce Operating Commander, Oscar Agostini, said Najmuddin, a commander of the Taliban. "The latest meetings were much better than those on P4..." (More on P4)...(6)

Khalilzad Briefs Afghan, UN Officials on Doha Talks

"Defence Minister (Elisa) Brenta has instructed the Interforce Operating Commander (COI) to assess an Italian troop pullout from Afghanistan," the defence minister’s report said.

It was only an assessment by the competent minister, insisted that no decision had been taken so far on the troop pullout. It was an assessment by the Interforce Operating Commander, Oscar Agostini, said Najmuddin, a commander of the Taliban. "The latest meetings were much better than those on P4..." (More on P4)...(6)

Italy Preparing for Withdrawal from Afghanistan

KABUL - Amid stepped-up efforts for ending the 18-year conflict, Italian troops may be withdrawn from Afghanistan within a year, says a media report.

"Defence Minister (Elisa) Brenta has instructed the Interforce Operating Commander (COI) to assess an Italian troop pullout from Afghanistan," the defence minister’s report said.

It was only an assessment by the competent minister, insisted that no decision had been taken so far on the troop pullout. It was an assessment by the Interforce Operating Commander, Oscar Agostini, said Najmuddin, a commander of the Taliban. "The latest meetings were much better than those on P4..." (More on P4)...(6)

Taliban Commander Killed in Kunar Night Raid

KABUL - A key Taliban commander has been killed along with two associates in a security operation in the Manogi district of eastern Kunar province, an official said on Tuesday.

Abdul Ghani Mosamam, the provincial spokesman, told Pajhwok Afghan News that security forces conducted the operation in Lichlam area late on Monday night. He said the operation was shared with the Italian contingent, "Defence Minister (Elisa) Brenta has instructed the Interforce Operating Commander (COI) to assess an Italian troop pullout from Afghanistan," the defence minister’s report said.

It was only an assessment by the competent minister, insisted that no decision had been taken so far on the troop pullout. It was an assessment by the Interforce Operating Commander, Oscar Agostini, said Najmuddin, a commander of the Taliban. "The latest meetings were much better than those on P4..." (More on P4)...(6)

Withdrawal from Afghanistan

"Defence Minister (Elisa) Brenta has instructed the Interforce Operating Commander (COI) to assess an Italian troop pullout from Afghanistan," the defence minister’s report said.

It was only an assessment by the competent minister, insisted that no decision had been taken so far on the troop pullout. It was an assessment by the Interforce Operating Commander, Oscar Agostini, said Najmuddin, a commander of the Taliban. "The latest meetings were much better than those on P4..." (More on P4)...(6)

Night Raid

KABUL - A key Taliban commander has been killed along with two associates in a security operation in the Manogi district of eastern Kunar province, an official said on Tuesday.

Abdul Ghani Mosamam, the provincial spokesman, told Pajhwok Afghan News that security forces conducted the operation in Lichlam area late on Monday night. He said the operation was shared with the Italian contingent, "Defence Minister (Elisa) Brenta has instructed the Interforce Operating Commander (COI) to assess an Italian troop pullout from Afghanistan," the defence minister’s report said.

It was only an assessment by the competent minister, insisted that no decision had been taken so far on the troop pullout. It was an assessment by the Interforce Operating Commander, Oscar Agostini, said Najmuddin, a commander of the Taliban. "The latest meetings were much better than those on P4..." (More on P4)...(6)

3°C -7°C 6°C