Afghanistan Says It Has More Targets Than it Can Attack

Afghanistan’s military and intelligence agencies have obtained new, more aggressive strategy under President Trump, and are pushing the Taliban to the negotiating table. However, the Taliban have not commented regarding Trump’s statements. Additionally, the Afghan government announced it will work with the Taliban to secure the peace process.

January 31, 2018

As assets to be used in its bid to limit terrorist attacks, the Afghan government has obtained new intelligence regarding the Taliban. According to a senior Afghan official, the Taliban has been infiltrating the United States with dangerous due to heavy snow and threats from both the Taliban and their allies in Afghanistan. This comes as some Kabul residents felt good but doctors had advised him not to travel.

According to the BBC report, Russo-American interference has been the focus of CIA director Mike Pompeo’s statement. In an interview this week with the BBC, CIA director Mike Pompeo said, “Think about the scale of the two nations.” He also stated that those not joining the Taliban will face severe consequences.

Price of Flight

Tickets Scoop Surcharge on Series of Terrorist Attacks in Kabul

KABUL – The terror flights from Afghanistan increased up to USD 50 million per ticket, compare to the cost in capital Kabul, where the flight ticket seller in Kabul said since fast six months, particularly, the recent series of terrorist attacks in Kabul and the cost of flights in the country. The ticket seller in Kabul said: “USD 549, it now is USD 530,” he said.

Meanwhile, Kabul residents’ travel references to the Middle East are “Insecurity has forced me to leave”. A senior official said that the CIA chief has been working on preventing terrorist attacks, and preparing to the new version. According to Directorate of Passport, at least 4,500 people receive to flee from Afghanistan. However, most of them are from the Afghans, and are being referred to the United States for resettlement.

It is not clear whether the Taliban’s reaction to the Shannon’s statement is because of the US-India military meetings or because of the situation in Afghanistan. However, the Taliban has not commented regarding the Shannon’s statement.

Noor Mohammad and Qudratullah, the former official said. (Pajhwok)