Afghan government officials, they are not there in large numbers. I am not an Afghan, I am not sure if the Taliban view themselves as Afghans or not. But the government, who spoke by phone with the journalist, claims to be recognized by the Taliban.

During their 2016-2017 rule, the Taliban banned women from working outside the home and could only go out in public if accompanied by a male relative. Since ending its rule, the Taliban have taken a softer line on women's rights, although international monitors and activists say the situation has not improved significantly.

A haul of 154 Mesopotamian texts identified with Vajrapani, the spiritual individual, one possibly to be identified as a portrayal of Buddha, the turbaned (1), was the “most productive session” to date. Zalmay Khalilzad, said the discussion was the “most productive session” to date. Khalilzad, who is a special envoy for President Donald Trump, said the discussion was the “most productive session” to date.

The Taliban took responsibility for the suicide car bombing that killed at least 12 people and injured 50 others in Ghazi province. Separately, at least 10 people were killed and 65 more injured in a suicide bombing on a military base near a Defense Ministry installation in Kabul last night.

The ministry extended condolences to the families of the Afghan soldiers. “Turkey will continue to stand by Afghanistan in its fight against terrorism,” it said.

Amid Afghan peace talks in Qatar, the Taliban refused to allow women to grab the headlines for the deadly assault. Last evening, the Taliban and the U.S. expressed optimism for progress in on-going talks in the Qatari capital Doha. U.S. President Donald Trump said in a series of tweets on Saturday that the Taliban, who for years resisted the leadership of the Afghan insurgents were determined to go to the table.

Talks between the U.S. and the Taliban are passed for two days as a group of Afghan negotiators and civil society activists held intra-Afghani dialogue in the same venue.(Av)

(5) Politicians Note

Anwarulhaq Aalubi, an Afghan politi- cian who has attended the meetings, said he hopes that more discussions of this type will be held in the future to facilitate further direct talks between all warring parties. “The Taliban, Afghans and the rights which have been outlined in the history of Islam about the rights of women and what it comes to freedom of the press. These are the living speech which have been talked in the talks,” said Aalubi.

The first day of the meeting was fo-cused on a number of pressing issues about the women’s rights, the free-dom of the press, girls’ education, civilian, foreign forces withdrawal, the human right’s protection, and other relevant issues, according to few delegates interviewed by ToloNews.

The talks were opposed to the joint statement at the end of the confere- nce.” (Afghanistan)“

(6) 60% Of Inmates...wished to see the international community to assist colleagues globally in the pre-servation and celebration of their cul-tural heritage.” (Agencies)

Syed Azem Kabrzani, a lawmaker from Herat province, said, “The presence of a person should be considered a crime, and more attention is paid to money. Now the financial and commercial letters of credit are suspended and all of those who have money and have become a head of a commission. It happens when some lawmakers had already fraud in the elections and were commissioner of hundreds of Russian-built heli-copters. Some of the funds were discovered, but every other person who was involved was not discovered.”

Mawarrah Shababdar, a lawmaker from Herat province, said, “The presence of a person should be considered a crime, and more attention is paid to money. Now the financial and commercial letters of credit are suspended and all of those who have money and have become a head of a commission. It happens when some lawmakers had already fraud in the elections and were commissioner of hundreds of Russian-built helicopters. Some of the funds were discovered, but every other person who was involved was not discovered.”

The defusing operation was complet-ed by a team of experts, which included several Afghan and international experts. The team was backed by the Afghan government and the International Security Assistance Force.

(7) Abdullah Hopes...were transferred to the drug ‘producer’ and we have taken action against those involved.”

(8) China’s Strategic...stand on the war and peace, and we have taken action against those involved.”

The meeting was also welcomed by the Presidential Palace. “In order to achieve the progress [in the peace process] and an opportu-nity to find a solution to the conflict in Afghanistan, it is important to have an opportun- ity to meet in the spheres of our national interest,” said the chief of the Presidential Palace.

(9) Taliban Driven...the situation in the field.

(10) Turkey Strongly...and today in Ghazi, at a time when talks between the parties to normalize relations in Afghanistan have intensified, the Taliban have not yet commented or made any public statement.

(11) Iran Exceeds...made the AU and Ethiopia for their assist- ance, but the situation is very tense. The Fulani are primarily nomadic cattle breeders, and while they are settled in some parts of the country, they are still considered nomads. Women are 40% of the population of Mali and are among the most heavily affected by the ongoing conflict.

Meanwhile, Abdul Haleem Kohistani, a resident of the area, confirmed the incident. He said the nighttime airstrike killed three Taliban fighters. He said the Taliban, who were known to be active in the area, had been targeted by a U.S. drone attack.

(12) $72M Worth...and the region, he added.

(13) Ukraine’s Zeleznyak...in the eastern conflict zone.

Settled in a 22-room house, surrounded by 16,000 women and children, some reports claim that the number of people living in the area is even higher. According to the United Nations, more than 2.5 million Afghans have been internally displaced in 2020, with nearly one million living in Iran. The crisis has driven millions of Afghans into debt, as they struggle to support their families.

We have...offered to act as an intermediary to ensure that should Iran and the U.S. decide to move forward with the agreement, said Jan Boni Masoudi-At-Tarni, media affiliate for the state of Qatar, who has written extensively about the Taliban. “This meeting would be possible with the same countries that are strong backers of Kiev,” Zeleznyak suggested in comments ad-dressed to Afghan delegates.

The Taliban have not yet commented or made any public statement.

(17) $37M Worth...the population under the protection of the AU and Ethiopia.

We pray that the rights which have been acknowledged by the Afghan society have taken huge strides in society, the delegates interviewed by TOLOnews.

(18) Mali PM...the core of the core of the conflict and the Taliban take advantage of this weakness to gain leverage in the negotiations.

The Fulani are primarily nomadic cattle breeders, and while they are settled in some parts of the country, they are still considered nomads. Women are 40% of the population of Mali and are among the most heavily affected by the ongoing conflict.

Meanwhile, Abdul Haleem Kohistani, a resident of the area, confirmed the incident. He said the nighttime airstrike killed three Taliban fighters. He said the Taliban, who were known to be active in the area, had been targeted by a U.S. drone attack.

(12) $72M Worth...and the region, he added.

(13) Ukraine’s Zeleznyak...in the eastern conflict zone.

Settled in a 22-room house, surrounded by 16,000 women and children, some reports claim that the number of people living in the area is even higher. According to the United Nations, more than 2.5 million Afghans have been internally displaced in 2020, with nearly one million living in Iran. The crisis has driven millions of Afghans into debt, as they struggle to support their families.

We have...offered to act as an intermediary to ensure that should Iran and the U.S. decide to move forward with the agreement, said Jan Boni Masoudi-At-Tarni, media affiliate for the state of Qatar, who has written extensively about the Taliban. “This meeting would be possible with the same countries that are strong backers of Kiev,” Zeleznyak suggested in comments addressed to Afghan delegates.

The Taliban have not yet commented or made any public statement.

(17) $37M Worth...the population under the protection of the AU and Ethiopia.

We pray that the rights which have been acknowledged by the Afghan society have taken huge strides in society, the delegates interviewed by TOLOnews.

(18) Mali PM...the core of the conflict and the Taliban take advantage of this weakness to gain leverage in the negotiations.

The Fulani are primarily nomadic cattle breeders, and while they are settled in some parts of the country, they are still considered nomads. Women are 40% of the population of Mali and are among the most heavily affected by the ongoing conflict.

Meanwhile, Abdul Haleem Kohistani, a resident of the area, confirmed the incident. He said the nighttime airstrike killed three Taliban fighters. He said the Taliban, who were known to be active in the area, had been targeted by a U.S. drone attack.

(12) $72M Worth...and the region, he added.