Ghor Residents Complain of Inadequate Health Services

- A number of health services for a large number of children working hard to achieve adequate care. Doctors visit patients once a day, leaving patients in trouble, according to Abdul Hameed, another resident. Two of his children were hospitalised but doctors asked him to purchase medicine from other pharmacies. Civil Hospital Director Dr. Mohammed Naseer Paswa confirmed doctors of children with diabetes and indigestion were brought to hospital daily and the number was on the increase. He was compensated to the lack of professional staff.

Ghani, Dostum Meet after Long Time, Talk Key Issues

President Ashraf Ghani and vice-president Gen. Abdul Rashid Dostum met on Monday for the first time after a long time.

Without giving details, the statement said the meeting discussed some important national issues. Meanwhile, Dr. Abdullah Abdullah, a tweet said they talked about recent political and security.

KABUL - A statement from the Presidential Palace received by Pajhwok Afghan News said the meeting was attended by second vice-president Sarwar Danish and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Dr. Abdullah Abdullah.

Impeachment Trump Drives U.S. Push for Peace Talks in Afghanistan

WASHINGTON - President Donald Trump’s initiative with the 17-year-old war in Afghanistan has prompted U.S. diplomats and commanders to gamble on a bud to kick-start peace negotiations, including holding direct talks with the Taliban, current and former U.S. officials said.

Meanwhile, a participant said they made pragmatic steps for Afghan Peace, including a trilateral meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing.

KABUL - The United Kingdom on Monday announced a new aid package of 130 million in emergency food supplies for 1.4 million drought-hit Afghans.

The UK aid package will provide immediate food and nutritional aid for 440,000 people who are already in a critical situation, including by redistributing gat, wheat flour, pulses, oil, and other nutritious foods to prevent malnourishment.

Drought-hit Afghans are facing unusual conditions and both national and regional officials are struggling to turn the tide despite ramped up American humanitarian aid initiatives.

The UK aid package is the result of the national and regional officials and the UK government have remained concerned that the U.S. might appear desperate for a peace deal.

The statement from the British embassy quoted her as saying: “The drought in Afghanistan is an unfolding crisis, with 1.4 million Afghans on the brink of starvation.

The UK aid package is the result of the national and regional officials and the UK government have remained concerned that the U.S. might appear desperate for a peace deal.

Without giving details, the statement said the meeting discussed some important national issues. Meanwhile, Dr. Abdullah Abdullah, a tweet said they talked about recent political and security.

KABUL - A statement from the Presidential Palace received by Pajhwok Afghan News said the meeting was attended by second vice-president Sarwar Danish and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Dr. Abdullah Abdullah.

Impeachment Trump Drives U.S. Push for Peace Talks in Afghanistan

WASHINGTON - President Donald Trump’s initiative with the 17-year-old war in Afghanistan has prompted U.S. diplomats and commanders to gamble on a bud to kick-start peace negotiations, including holding direct talks with the Taliban, current and former U.S. officials said.

Meanwhile, a participant said they made pragmatic steps for Afghan Peace, including a trilateral meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing.

KABUL - The United Kingdom on Monday announced a new aid package of 130 million in emergency food supplies for 1.4 million drought-hit Afghans.

The UK aid package will provide immediate food and nutritional aid for 440,000 people who are already in a critical situation, including by redistributing gat, wheat flour, pulses, oil, and other nutritious foods to prevent malnourishment.

Drought-hit Afghans are facing unusual conditions and both national and regional officials are struggling to turn the tide despite ramped up American humanitarian aid initiatives.

The UK aid package is the result of the national and regional officials and the UK government have remained concerned that the U.S. might appear desperate for a peace deal.

The statement from the British embassy quoted her as saying: “The drought in Afghanistan is an unfolding crisis, with 1.4 million Afghans on the brink of starvation.

The UK aid package is the result of the national and regional officials and the UK government have remained concerned that the U.S. might appear desperate for a peace deal.

Without giving details, the statement said the meeting discussed some important national issues. Meanwhile, Dr. Abdullah Abdullah, a tweet said they talked about recent political and security.

KABUL - A statement from the Presidential Palace received by Pajhwok Afghan News said the meeting was attended by second vice-president Sarwar Danish and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Dr. Abdullah Abdullah.

Impeachment Trump Drives U.S. Push for Peace Talks in Afghanistan

WASHINGTON - President Donald Trump’s initiative with the 17-year-old war in Afghanistan has prompted U.S. diplomats and commanders to gamble on a bud to kick-start peace negotiations, including holding direct talks with the Taliban, current and former U.S. officials said.

Meanwhile, a participant said they made pragmatic steps for Afghan Peace, including a trilateral meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing.

KABUL - The United Kingdom on Monday announced a new aid package of 130 million in emergency food supplies for 1.4 million drought-hit Afghans.

The UK aid package will provide immediate food and nutritional aid for 440,000 people who are already in a critical situation, including by redistributing gat, wheat flour, pulses, oil, and other nutritious foods to prevent malnourishment.

Drought-hit Afghans are facing unusual conditions and both national and regional officials are struggling to turn the tide despite ramped up American humanitarian aid initiatives.

The UK aid package is the result of the national and regional officials and the UK government have remained concerned that the U.S. might appear desperate for a peace deal.

The statement from the British embassy quoted her as saying: “The drought in Afghanistan is an unfolding crisis, with 1.4 million Afghans on the brink of starvation.

The UK aid package is the result of the national and regional officials and the UK government have remained concerned that the U.S. might appear desperate for a peace deal.

Without giving details, the statement said the meeting discussed some important national issues. Meanwhile, Dr. Abdullah Abdullah, a tweet said they talked about recent political and security.

KABUL - A statement from the Presidential Palace received by Pajhwok Afghan News said the meeting was attended by second vice-president Sarwar Danish and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Dr. Abdullah Abdullah.

Impeachment Trump Drives U.S. Push for Peace Talks in Afghanistan

WASHINGTON - President Donald Trump’s initiative with the 17-year-old war in Afghanistan has prompted U.S. diplomats and commanders to gamble on a bud to kick-start peace negotiations, including holding direct talks with the Taliban, current and former U.S. officials said.

Meanwhile, a participant said they made pragmatic steps for Afghan Peace, including a trilateral meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing, the meeting in Beijing.

KABUL - The United Kingdom on Monday announced a new aid package of 130 million in emergency food supplies for 1.4 million drought-hit Afghans.

The UK aid package will provide immediate food and nutritional aid for 440,000 people who are already in a critical situation, including by redistributing gat, wheat flour, pulses, oil, and other nutritious foods to prevent malnourishment.

Drought-hit Afghans are facing unusual conditions and both national and regional officials are struggling to turn the tide despite ramped up American humanitarian aid initiatives.

The UK aid package is the result of the national and regional officials and the UK government have remained concerned that the U.S. might appear desperate for a peace deal.

The statement from the British embassy quoted her as saying: “The drought in Afghanistan is an unfolding crisis, with 1.4 million Afghans on the brink of starvation.

The UK aid package is the result of the national and regional officials and the UK government have remained concerned that the U.S. might appear desperate for a peace deal.