EU to Revise Roadmap for Engagement with CSOs

The European Union has said on Sunday Civil Society Organisations (CSOs) have been its essential partners since 2002 in the implementation of assistance in areas of health, social protection, agriculture and support to refugees.

The publication of the EU Country Roadmap for Engagement with Civil Society at a special event in Afghanistan will be reviewed.

The revisions are aimed to measure the impact of the existing roadmap, assess progress made and define future action items for the period 2018 to 2020.

The EU will like to provide support to Afghan civil society and donors was one of the highlights of the Brussels Conference on Afghanistan (BCA) and provided an excellent platform for discussion.

The EU said it would like to continue this type of engagement with a state-of-the-art civil society dialogue event in autumn 2017.

The EU Country Roadmap for Engagement with Civil Society (United Nations, NGOs, government counterparts and other relevant actors were asked to add their input to the ongoing revision process.

Pamir Energy Wins Prestigious Ashden Award

KABUL - Addressing a high level event held at the Presidential Palace, the president praised the achievements, bravery, hard work and patriotism of the Afghan people.

KABUL - Pamir Energy, a project company of the Aga Khan Fund for Economic Development (AKFED), which is part of the Aga Khan Development Network (AKDN), has won the 2017 Ashden Award for Increasing Energy Access for its work bringing hydropower to 230,000 people in Afghanistan and 3,000 people in North Afghanistan, as well as to increase trade volume between Afghanistan and other countries.

The Ashden Award is a globally recognised measure of excellence in the field of sustainable energy. Internationally acclaimed actors receive $20,000 in prize money and a national package of business support to scale up their work.

In 2018, the company began exporting energy across the Panj River to communities in Pakistan’s Chitral District.
