Afghan National Defense and Security Forces, as they undertake that difficult mission without any delay.

He noted that the Afghan National Defense and Security Forces, which he will be visiting in a few days, are in the process of taking the necessary measures to ensure that the Afghan forces are prepared and ready for the task.

There are currently 14 Afghan National Defense and Security Forces (ANDSF) in the country.

The Afghan government has signed the peace agreement with the Taliban, which it hopes will lead to the withdrawal of foreign forces.

The agreement includes a provision that the government will release all Taliban prisoners, including those held in the US-run Bagram prison.

The agreement also includes a provision that the Taliban will not attack civilians and will not engage in terrorism.

The government has also agreed to provide security guarantees to the Taliban and to establish a joint commission to oversee the implementation of the agreement.

The agreement is expected to be signed in Doha, Qatar, on September 12.
