United we stand, Divided we fall

Bhutan Jitlu

There would be no discovery in life, unless there was happiness. Happiness would be like a life, inside a soul, if there were no joy, no happiness, no delight. Happiness would be the highest power in the society, if there was no happiness in the society. Money is also necessary as that is responsible for our position in the society and to enjoy the life. But, the only power of life cannot bring all these things for a person. But also, these won’t be brought up in the society the unity among the members.

It is a message bearing tale, everybody has heard of. Once, there were two brothers, they lived in the same place and had four sons who were always fighting with each other. They were not able to settle down those conflicts and asked his sons to come to him, a day. When they come, the old man gathered them and said, “Do you understand what is happiness? It is easy to break the sticks only one.

When they are broken together, none of you can break the same as you. You will not be able to break the same if you try with your hands. The four brothers realized what their father was trying to teach them and forgot all the enmities in the family. They were united as one.

Unity is the state of being together. All of us will be still uneducated if there isn’t unity to be seen. We have to live together to make a whole, which can show a way to success or victory. We have to live together, we can make it till the end, perfectly.

In fact, if there is no unity in the family, there are just lost ten students. Meanwhile, having a great amount, it would only be maintaining the strength among them. You can be able to take up people together in your place if you are in one team. It is the same thing as you. You can have the same things together and you will be able to win the success. The four brothers realized what their father was trying to teach them and forgot all the enmities in the family. They were united as one.

The present government seems to be sincere in bringing actual solutions to the problems of the country. It is hoped that the government would also give exclusive attention to solve the energy crisis in the country.

Parents encourage their children to mix freely with their peers of other races and religions from this smaller unit, so we go to be the better citizens of the world.

Schools are the best places for students of different races to mingle freely without prejudice and to understand the different exotic beliefs and culture of their friends, their rites and rituals and their places of worship. It’s well known that the harmony of the world, the unity of thought of no race can be achieved unless the children’s education and upbringing promote it.

The old father then smiled at his sons and said, “Children, do not try to bring the sticks by yourself, you will be unable to break the sticks. But when you are broken together, none of you can break the same as you. You will not be able to break the same if you try with your hands. The four brothers realized what their father was trying to teach them and forgot all the enmities in the family. They were united as one.

In the Name of God, the Most Merciful, the Most Kind

March 01, 2015

Editorial and Opinions

Chief: Dr. Hussain Yasa

Chairman: Kamal Ali Gulzar

Chief Editor: Chief: Dr. Hussain Yasa

Phone: 95-791-15000 (1500-1)/2977-1111/019

Address: V-157, Sector E, Phase 4, Ziauddin Phase, Karachi

Email: zia_hujjat@yahoo.com

What is the Solution to the Endless

by Hajjattullah Zia

The escalating propensity of radical ideologies for violics and fundraisers has triggered a battle against the across the world. The gruesome acts of the Islamic "Sta-national concerns. The Islamic militants butcher their hapless world around. The struggle is not only for their land or

It is hoped that the broken electric pylons would soon be repaired and supply of electric-

The sectors of several countries of the world. If our government starts its efforts, it is the Chinese is famous in the world for their huge investments in the energy and its feasibility report is finalized. In the same way, a number of countries in the of avalanches, the tunnel is blocked for many days every year. Although there are country. The only reliable way of connecting to the north of the country is the fa-famous for their huge investments in the energy sector of a number of countries of the world. If our government starts its efforts, it is road and dangerous elevations make them almost impossible for any kind of reliable northern areas but they are even more dangerous than Salang tunnel and the rough country. It is hoped that the government would also give exclusive attenof the country. It is hoped that the government would also give exclusive atten-dealing with the problem of electricity breakdowns. The situation has been disappoin-breakdowns. The situation has been disappointing. Although the terrestrial connectivity of the country with the

as a potential threat for the overall system of government and private sector. During once in the system can cause a potential threat for the overall system of government and private sector.

T

The breakdown of electricity in the country is now entering its second week and in the one week, it has almost crippled the overall functioning of the sector.

The functioning of government offices, different small and big businesses and the householders is fully affected by this electricity problem. According to the reports, last week’s severe snow and wind brought down a number of giant electric pylons in the northern part of the country. The electricity being imported from Tajik-stan was shut down due to this incident and the capital felt the worst darkness of its history. The severe snowfall in the north also blocked the Salang tunnel which is the only access of country to the northern areas. It was opened yesterday and it is in hopes that the government would also give exclusive attention to solve the energy crisis in the country.