Unknown Fate of Hazara Passengers

The responsibility of a government within a state to ensure peace and security of its citizens. However, the governments that suffer from administrative incapacity, lack of resources, and corruption are often unable to fulfill their duties. In such cases, the suffering of the society tends to suffer the most. Women, ethnic and religious minorities, and the common people as a whole undergo anguish as a result. Afghanistan is in this situation; a number of countries where the government has not been able to provide enough security to its people and the common people face different sorts of problems every day.

Last week, around 51 Hazara passengers were abducted by unknown masked men on Kabul-Khanabad highway. The incident took place in Shahr joy district of southern Zabul province wherein the armed group drove away 31 passengers to Khez Khan district after identifying them to be Hazara men. Since then there has been no report about the fate and whereabouts of the poor abducted passengers.

This clearly shows the level of insecurity in the country. Some armed men stop passenger vehicles, identify certain people and take them to some unknown place with no difficulty. And the most unfortunate fact is that there are no confirmed reports about who abducted them and when they are at the moment.

There have been different claims by different authorities since the incident took place. In the beginning there were claims that members of Taliban have abducted them as they have started getting stronger in certain parts of the country. However, afterwards there have been claims that Talibans and Afghans are responsible for the incident. The acting governor of Zabul - Mohammad Al-Arabi has denied the local Taliban, along with the Balochistan-based Lashkars-e-Isangi militant outfit and the Cheechom. On the other hands, Taliban negotiators claim that the passengers have been abducted by armed robbers. Though none of the groups has claimed responsibility, none of them can escape blame as they are opposed to Hazaras who mostly belong to Shia sect of Islam.

Talibans during their reign had the worst behavior with Hazaras. During the wars, thousands of Hazaras were killed in battles, Hazar Shariat and Kabul by Talibans. Moreover, they were discriminated badly due to their ethnicity. This is the case with Lashkars-e-Isangi. The militant outfit in Pakistan has been the past few years targeted Hazara in Quetta Pakistan because of their sect. Lashkars-e-Isangi consider Hazaras as infidels and has committed to out them from Pakistan in similar fashion. Talibans also consider Shiias as infidels and the cruelties and killings they have carried out against Shiites and certain other sects are unparalleled.

Who is responsible for the incident must be sought out quickly and efforts should be made to rescue the passengers. The government of Afghanistan and authorities claim that efforts are underway and certain teams of tribal elders have been as unwillingly. The government has been accused of not paying attention to the problems that the victims will be released. Kabul Police Chief, Ghulam Jalalat Farahi has mentioned that efforts are underway for peaceful and unconditional release of the passengers. However, it is difficult to expect that the Talibans would be ready to free the abducted passengers without any condition.

Seeing the support of the tribal elders is not a bad idea in this sort of incidents where the Talibans have a lot of power. However, it is difficult to expect that the Talibans would be ready to free the abducted passengers without any condition. Therefore, the government needs to follow up carefully whether negotiations are carried out with sincere efforts and that the process does not lead to some sort of tragedy for the poor victims.
