Albeit, it is not officially confirmed. The Afghan Ministry of Civil Affairs (MOWA), the Ministry of Defense (MoD), and the National Directorate of Security (NDS) are the main groups that are working to prosecute the Taliban. Although, it is not officially confirmed if Daesh was involved in kidnapping the survivors of the blast.

12) Suspects in kidnaping: The operations are led independently by the National Security Forces and NATO only train and support them in their operations.

One large scale military that being deployed by the Taliban is a group of soldiers who are responsible for the success of the Afghan National Army (ANA). In addition, increasing numbers of insurgents are operating under the Taliban flag in the western provinces.

The other operation is being carried out by Afghan police in the 32 abducted passengers by a Taliban group. According to the government sources, 100 members of the group have been killed in the operation.

Although, it is not officially confirmed if Daesh was involved in kidnapping the survivors of the blast.

The military intelligence chief in charge of intelligence for the MOWA, said that the group is connected to the NDS, known as KIA (Khyber-Kohistan Agency).