Violence is one of the major obstacles to growth and development. It is self-evident, that violence against women particularly in political process in achieving development in the society. Based on the 1995 Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, violence against women is any acts or gender based violence as a result of physical, sexual or psychological harm to women, including threats of such acts, coercion or arbitrary deprivation of liberty—whether occurring in public or private life.

Elites have resisted the backdrop of democracy and participation in elections is both the fundamental human right of every woman and every man, and the duty of every man and every woman, to participate in democracy and to ensure that the voices of women are heard in the political process. In fact, the rights of half the world’s population—women—have been violated, either through violence or coercion. By preventing women from exercising their political rights, they lose their decision-making power and the constitution should curb it.

Gender equality in the political process is not only an exercise of political right, but also an exercise of civil right. The right to vote and be elected is a fundamental right and a right that women have been exercising since 1943. Despite this, the implementation of the Beijing Declaration has been far too slow.

Women: Victims of Electoral Violence

Women have been victim of electoral violence in Afghanistan. Women form nearly half of the population of the country, their rights are being violated, but the situation is far graver for women than men. As women struggle about their security and doubt about the police force to provide security. The situation for women has not yet improved.

Women have been victims of violence, not only in the past, but also in the present. The situation for women is worsening, and in some cases, it is at a critical point. This is because of the lack of political participation of women in Afghanistan. The situation is far worse for women than for men.

Women in Afghanistan have been victim of violence, not only in the past, but also in the present. The situation for women is worsening, and in some cases, it is at a critical point. This is because of the lack of political participation of women in Afghanistan. The situation is far worse for women than for men.

Women have been victims of violence, not only in the past, but also in the present. The situation for women is worsening, and in some cases, it is at a critical point. This is because of the lack of political participation of women in Afghanistan. The situation is far worse for women than for men.

Women in Afghanistan have been victim of violence, not only in the past, but also in the present. The situation for women is worsening, and in some cases, it is at a critical point. This is because of the lack of political participation of women in Afghanistan. The situation is far worse for women than for men.

Women have been victims of violence, not only in the past, but also in the present. The situation for women is worsening, and in some cases, it is at a critical point. This is because of the lack of political participation of women in Afghanistan. The situation is far worse for women than for men.

Women in Afghanistan have been victim of violence, not only in the past, but also in the present. The situation for women is worsening, and in some cases, it is at a critical point. This is because of the lack of political participation of women in Afghanistan. The situation is far worse for women than for men.

Women have been victims of violence, not only in the past, but also in the present. The situation for women is worsening, and in some cases, it is at a critical point. This is because of the lack of political participation of women in Afghanistan. The situation is far worse for women than for men.

Women in Afghanistan have been victim of violence, not only in the past, but also in the present. The situation for women is worsening, and in some cases, it is at a critical point. This is because of the lack of political participation of women in Afghanistan. The situation is far worse for women than for men.

Women have been victims of violence, not only in the past, but also in the present. The situation for women is worsening, and in some cases, it is at a critical point. This is because of the lack of political participation of women in Afghanistan. The situation is far worse for women than for men.