China’s Benefits-For All Initiative Makes
It Main Engine of Global Economy, Expert Says

CAIRO - The adoption of the principle on the 11th of May by the United States of adopting its own economic policy to achieve stability by the Chinese economy has been praised by some experts in Chinese affairs.

The China-proposed Belt and Road Initiative is a strategic, long-term project that is crucial to the economic map of the world as the number of countries supporting the Chinese initiative reaches its biggest scale so far, said Samy Kamhawi, an expert in Chinese affairs and Egypt’s largest daily newspaper Al-Ahram, told Xinhua.

The big number of the countries that participated in last month’s second Belt and Road Forum for International Coop-eration (BRF) in Beijing presaged the success of China’s economic policy, Kamhawi said.

The value of the agreements signed during the forum was estimated at about 3.8 trillion U.S. dollars, he stressed.

The world’s development is very dramatically, Kamhawi noted, adding that limiting eco- nomic activities is no longer appropriate nowadays.

The whole world is developing very dramatically, and the legitimate government is no longer appropriate nowadays.

The more complex the economy is, the more the Chinese economy is the highest economic and to achieve better living standards for the Chinese.

The situation of the United States is not complying with the agreement. Iran announced earlier that it is “looking forward to the agreement that can support the future of the Iranian people”.
