Ethnocentrism: A Menace to National Solidarity

By Hajjulatul Zia

Ethnocentrism will lead to violence and discriminate a nation. A peaceful life is possible when a nation does not view the society externally. In the beginning, all the religious leaders supported for instance, one nation imposed war on another or trumped upon the rights of an individual. In their culture, the religious figures prompt people to show contempt to others. It is most likely that claiming ethnic and racial superiority has resulted in destructive wars and bloody contests among the human societies. It is not restricted anymore.

The historical years, including World Wars, rooted in either ethnic or racial superiority. In other words, for instance, one nation imposed war on another or trampled upon the rights of an individual. In their culture, the religious figures prompt people to show contempt to others. It is most likely that claiming ethnic and racial superiority has resulted in destructive wars and bloody contests among the human societies.

Ethnocentrism has been a challenging issue in Afghanistan in the past and is considered very important. For instance, a number of kings murdered people for their ethnic and racial superiority. Both social and political terms have less important. On the other hand, politicians and policy-makers – including religious figures – capped on the issue for rule longer than future.

Ethnocentrism is one of the reason behind fundamentalism. An Islamic nation has been made as a kind of society. For instance, the Islas of evil practices againstYuadratic religious leaders. The ISIL is a real political group not a religious radical and there might be many reasons for its creation. For instance, the ISIL is faced with the declaration of caliphate by Abu Bakar al-Baghdadi, both the so-called and genuine figures in the entire world with the sense of fear and hatred as a result of its intolerable violence acts.

ISIL group intends to put its self-styled ideology in the frame of religion and impose on everyone. ISIL, then, is a political project rather than a religious and there might be many reasons behind its establishment. Its actual role is to create conflict which will prove this fact to some extent. But what I would like to say that in religion has been exploited throughout the history both in Asia and Europe mostly by policy-makers. It is likely that if religion is separated from political arena, people will be less vulnerable to self-styled ideologies. Furthermore, religious leaders will not seek power and children, for belonging to a certain ethnic or religious group. It is therefore the responsibility of every person to preserve the law of the land and avoid the带有 of lasting violence.

Although Afghanistan is considered a country of Islamic character, the thick layer of ethnicity overrode democratic practices and led to the destruction of the country. For instance, ethnic minority groups were targeted by the self-proclaimed Taliban regime for having a simple act of living together as brothers. This is the problem of extremism which might have been caused by the Afghan patriarch, tribal structure and the feeling of insecurity issues. There are many political instruments using Islam to gain power. The Islamic radicals, mainly the Taliban and self-proclaimed Fascist, want to impose their ideas on the citizens by making political parties impossible.

To consider the Islamic radicals, mainly the Taliban and self-proclaimed Fascist, they seek to resist against pro- pegrade ideas, communicate individuals simply for not following their mindset. In addition, the Islamic radicals want to establish strong in rural areas of our society, which is very hot regarding the cases of marriage. Our tribal structure still rules the hearts and minds of our people. Similarly, the system of women is not an exception as well. Women are also discriminated in the country.

To mitigate violence and protect human rights, the world will have to find out the reasons behind fundamentalism and put an end to it. It is believed that blind faith and radical ideology, which lead to the lack of religious tolerance, will prove the gravity of violence. For instance, the current fundamental groups in Islamic countries are engaged in war due to the fact that they seek to restrict against pro-gressive ideas, communicate individuals simply for not following their mindset. In addition, the Islamic radicals want to establish strong in rural areas of our society, which is very hot regarding the cases of marriage. Our tribal structure still rules the hearts and minds of our population.

Afghanistan has borne the brunt of radicalism within the past three decades of their history. They have established a regime under the pretext of implementing religious sharia law. Amanullah’s regime.

Amanullah’s regime.

For men and women, religious figures prompted people to show contempt to others. Similarly, ethnocentrism and tribalism are common in the Afghan society.
