An HIA delegation, authorised by the former prime minister, has been meeting with the government over the past two months in Kabul. The delegation has said it has worked to provide a safe way for the government to cease military operations in the district. It has said that the government has agreed to hold a meeting with the Taliban to discuss the possibility of a peace deal. The delegation has said it has met with members of the Taliban and is working on a plan that would allow for a reconciliation between the two sides.

On a separate note, the HIA delegation head, Eng. Mohammad Amin Karim, told Pa-

The Taliban have rejected the idea of a peace deal, saying that the government is not serious about negotiations. The Taliban have said that they will only negotiate with the government if the government is willing to sign a peace agreement.
