Yesterday’s Solution

Virgo (Aug. 22-Sep 22)

- You’re like a bird that’s outgrown its nest, no doubt about who you are while the spontaneous nature of your actions may have you wondering about your unbridled enthusiasm. This could hinder your productivity. The answer is to create structures that will discipline your energy. You may be feeling the pressure as you try to clarify your goals and bad things may get under your skin or you may be feeling the pressure as you try to clarify your goals and bad things may get under your skin.

KARUL - The holy month of Ramadan will end on July 27 as the moon is likely to be sighted on Friday, a noted Afghan astrologist predicted on Thursday.

A Taliban insider told AFP that 48 insurgents were killed in the artillery strikes and at least 20 others were wounded.

Pre-Taliban authorities say about 40% of the 15,000 hectares of farmland cleared of locusts, according to local officials.

A Taliban insider told AFP that 48 insurgents were killed in the artillery strikes and at least 20 others were wounded.

A Pajhwok Afghan News reporter visited the diplomatic mission of the Taliban in Kabul on Saturday as the first day of Ramadan, (Pajhwok)

15,000 Hectares of Farmland Cleared of Locusts in Samangan

The applicants said they had to wait from dawn to dusk to submit their passports and other documents for visa issuance. (More on P4)...(21)

Talibanzaid Kills 20 Policemen

A district official told AFP that 48 insurgents were killed in the artillery strikes and at least 20 others were wounded.

The applicants said they had to wait from dawn to dusk to submit their passports and other documents for visa issuance. (More on P4)...(21)

Riyadh Summit Vital for Afghan experts

15,000 Hectares of Farmland Cleared of Locusts in Samangan

- Everyone seems everday demanding today and you don’t know whether you can provide what they want. Naturally, you enjoy making others happy, but you’re not willing to make sacrifices for them.

- You’re like a bird that’s outgrown its nest, no doubt about who you are while the spontaneous nature of your actions may have you wondering about your unbridled enthusiasm. This could hinder your productivity. The answer is to create structures that will discipline your energy.

- You’re like a bird that’s outgrown its nest, no doubt about who you are while the spontaneous nature of your actions may have you wondering about your unbridled enthusiasm. This could hinder your productivity. The answer is to create structures that will discipline your energy.

- You’re like a bird that’s outgrown its nest, no doubt about who you are while the spontaneous nature of your actions may have you wondering about your unbridled enthusiasm. This could hinder your productivity. The answer is to create structures that will discipline your energy.

- You’re like a bird that’s outgrown its nest, no doubt about who you are while the spontaneous nature of your actions may have you wondering about your unbridled enthusiasm. This could hinder your productivity. The answer is to create structures that will discipline your energy.

- You’re like a bird that’s outgrown its nest, no doubt about who you are while the spontaneous nature of your actions may have you wondering about your unbridled enthusiasm. This could hinder your productivity. The answer is to create structures that will discipline your energy.

- You’re like a bird that’s outgrown its nest, no doubt about who you are while the spontaneous nature of your actions may have you wondering about your unbridled enthusiasm. This could hinder your productivity. The answer is to create structures that will discipline your energy.

- You’re like a bird that’s outgrown its nest, no doubt about who you are while the spontaneous nature of your actions may have you wondering about your unbridled enthusiasm. This could hinder your productivity. The answer is to create structures that will discipline your energy.

- You’re like a bird that’s outgrown its nest, no doubt about who you are while the spontaneous nature of your actions may have you wondering about your unbridled enthusiasm. This could hinder your productivity. The answer is to create structures that will discipline your energy.