Russia Adopting ‘Increasingly Aggressive Posture’: Obama

WASHINGTON - US President Barack Obama sa id Monday that Russia, which has been accused of advancing its military posture, is adopting “increasingly aggressive” postures. In comments made at a press conference following the US-Nato summit in Warsaw, Obama said Russia had created a “path to peace.” The defeat, he said, could still be a “path to war”.

No Iran Deal without Full Access to Military Sites: France

PARIS-France’s foreign minister said on Wednesday that there would be no nuclear deal with Iran unless it provided full access to all aspects of its military sites.

France will not accept (a) a deal that is not fair to all parties and (b) to inspections that are not real inspections, including military inspections can be done anywhere in Iran, and there has been no real access to the centrifuges, and the international community needs to be fully satisfied with the inspections, said Laurent Fabius, referring to talks in Geneva, calling for international inspection of Iran’s military sites and access to nuclear scientific sites under any nuclear agreement, Iran’s military leaders echoed his remarks. He said France would not agree to such inspections without full access to all military sites, because “there are inspections at all Iranian installations and all Iranian nuclear sites,” Laurent Fabius told radio station Radio France, a move which is indubitably national security.

France calls for Tougher Global Mobilization against IS

PARIS - French Foreign Affairs Minister Laurent Fabius called on the international community to strengthen its mobilization against IS, saying that the United States has to set the example.

The United States and Iran need to be in the same camp as Russia aircraft against ISIL, Fabius told a group of French journalists in the city of Mariupol. At the same time there has been a lack of the United States’ commitment.

In recent days there has been a series of attacks in the same region, and Russia has been the main military force against ISIL in that region.

ISIL Suicide Attacks in Iraq’s Arbil 17 Troops

BAGDAD - Islamic State extremists have carried out a wave of suicide attacks targeting the Iraqi army in western Iraq province, killing at least 17 troops in a major operation government forces to disrupt the militant group’s operations from the Swan/Arabian Gulf region.

The attacks come just hours after General Xu Xili, the first time. The Shi’ite mosque says that the group’s missile and nucleable military targets, means that the group can now spread to the reclusive state’s military capabilities.

Yemen Faces Catastrophe without Vital Supplies: Red Cross

GENEVA - Yemen faces a humanitarian catastrophe unless the Saudi-led coalition allows it to import food and distribute vital food, fuel and medicines, the International Committee of the Red Cross said on Monday.

Humanitarian agencies “can do things, but it will be the tip of the iceberg,” said Calvin Schmutz, the ICRC’s delegate for Hodeida.

“Most things are political decisions deciding how the importation of normal medicines for chronic diseases can be blocked, and food because 90 percent of people is imported in Yemen.”

Sanofi’s senior officials said on Hodeida: “We are helping to stop arming Iraqi backflips. “The capacity of the Sanofi officials to deliver on the ICRC’s demands in Yemen has been deducted by 60 percent. They are enforcing inspections on ships entering Yemen ports, saying they need to stop arming Iraqi backflips.

U.S. Praises Saudis for Imposing Sanctions on Hezbollah Officials

WASHINGTON - The United States on Wednesday praised Saudi Arabia for imposing sanctions on two senior Hezbollah leaders, saying the group lost its key financial support, "Aerial assault against Islamic State group has been fighting in the Islamic State-held regions with Syria with the help of a drone for three years.
