KABUL - Afghanistan’s First Lady Rula Ghani, while speaking at the US Institute of Peace in Washington DC on Thursday, said that the attempted prisoner swap for professors from the American University of Afghanistan (AUAF) “did not work.”

“The situation is very complex... and, as you mentioned, it did not work,” Rula Ghani said in response to a question at the US Institute of Peace. “I am not quite sure why, but probably some party did not do what they promised they are going to do, so, unfortunately, the two professors may not be released.”

“But this is what we are dealing with, this is the kind of people we have to negotiate with, and it’s really delicate,” she said. Kevin King, 63, from the US, and Timothy Weeks, 35, from Australia, were professors at AUAF who were abducted by the Haqqan Network in Kabul in August 2010.

Her comments came after a source told TOLOnews on Thursday that the prisoner exchange captured Haqqan Network. Anas Haqqani, Hafiz Rashid and Malik Khan for two kidnapped professors from the AUAF did not take place.

Anas Haqqani, Hafiz Rashid and Malik Khan, leaders of the Haqqan Network, were captured in a military operation in 2014. Four days earlier, President Ghani announced that the three Haqqan Network members would be “completely” released.

According to a source who spoke with TOLOnews on Thursday, Anas Haqqani, Hafiz Rashid and Malik Khan were transferred back to Bagram air base.

In the meantime, First Lady Ghani also emphasized the need to negotiate a durable peace accord. “Peace is a long process,” she said. “When peace happens in one or two months is wrong. Even if it happens, it will be wrong.”

“We want peace because the Taliban are Afghans and have the right to be in Afghanistan, but a Taliban rule is not going to be acceptable. I am sure there is a lot that still needs to be done,” she said on Thursday.

She said that it’s the right of the people to live in peace and “I hope that together we’ve been progressing in the right direction and eventually—God willing—I hope that in the near future, I hope that—together—we bring peace in Afghanistan.”

“Although I am participating in the exam, I am sure there is a lot that still needs to be done,” said Safa Awa, another participant. Among the 43% students who participated in the exam, about 220 graduates from military high school.

“I have come from Khost, I have reached military school, which is under the authority of the National Defense Ministry, and now I am participating in the exam to continue my lessons at the university,” she said. “Not who has graduated from military high school, but who graduated from military high school.”

“I decided to continue my lessons in the air,” she said. (TOLO News)

KARUL - First Lady Rula Ghani, while speaking at the US Institute of Peace in Washington DC on Thursday, said that the attempted prisoner swap for professors from the American University of Afghanistan (AUAF) “did not work.”

“The situation is very complex... and, as you mentioned, it did not work,” Rula Ghani said in response to a question at the US Institute of Peace. “I am not quite sure why, but probably some party did not do what they promised they are going to do, so, unfortunately, the two professors may not be released.”

“But this is what we are dealing with, this is the kind of people we have to negotiate with, and it’s really delicate,” she said. Kevin King, 63, from the US, and Timothy Weeks, 35, from Australia, were professors at AUAF who were abducted by the Haqqan Network in Kabul in August 2010.

Her comments came after a source told TOLOnews on Thursday that the prisoner exchange captured Haqqan Network. Anas Haqqani, Hafiz Rashid and Malik Khan for two kidnapped professors from the AUAF did not take place.

Anas Haqqani, Hafiz Rashid and Malik Khan, leaders of the Haqqan Network, were captured in a military operation in 2014. Four days earlier, President Ghani announced that the three Haqqan Network members would be “completely” released.

According to a source who spoke with TOLOnews on Thursday, Anas Haqqani, Hafiz Rashid and Malik Khan were transferred back to Bagram air base.

In the meantime, First Lady Ghani also emphasized the need to negotiate a durable peace accord. “Peace is a long process,” she said. “When peace happens in one or two months is wrong. Even if it happens, it will be wrong.”

“We want peace because the Taliban are Afghans and have the right to be in Afghanistan, but a Taliban rule is not going to be acceptable. I am sure there is a lot that still needs to be done,” she said on Thursday.

She said that it’s the right of the people to live in peace and “I hope that together we’ve been progressing in the right direction and eventually—God willing—I hope that in the near future, I hope that—together—we bring peace in Afghanistan.”

“Although I am participating in the exam, I am sure there is a lot that still needs to be done,” said Safa Awa, another participant. Among the 43% students who participated in the exam, about 220 graduates from military high school.

“I have come from Khost, I have reached military school, which is under the authority of the National Defense Ministry, and now I am participating in the exam to continue my lessons at the university,” she said. “Not who has graduated from military high school, but who graduated from military high school.”

“I decided to continue my lessons in the air,” she said. (TOLO News)
LOGAR - Research done by Logar’s Civil Society over the past six months reports a rise in the ab-al abuse of ‘550 children and youths’.

TOLOnews reporter Sharif Amir visited logar on Thursday and talked to abuse victims. He said: “The children and youths are not at school.”

Responding to an article published by the UN’s Guardian on Wednesday, the Afghan Education Ministry has assigned a “fact-finding delegation” to investigate reports of “abuse of child” in Logar.” The ministry said in a statement on Thursday.

Mohammad Massa Mahmoudi,
the head of Logar’s Civil Society, claimed that teachers, head-masters and local officials are involved in the abuse.

The victims are between 12 and 20 years old.
Amiri said that Mahmoudi showed him dreams of violence of abuse that “shocked” him, ad-ting that “it still deep in the soil of this society.”

A 19-year-old student said he was abused by the headmaster: “The school is closed for two times for the same year of class and he was always as-

Pathway to a colorful life.

The minefields collided near the town of Shorab and Mashtoon Province.

According to reports, 20 people
were also injured in the attack.

An official in the Zabulun
University of Afghanistan
has told TOLOnews that the vehi-

KAKHAR - Mohammad Aftab,
the police chief of Kakhzar’s Wargan district, was killed along with his three bodyguards in a Taliban battle on the Kakhzar-Baghlan
highway on Friday morning.

Javid Barash, a spokesman for the Kakhzar police said, that The incident occurred on the Kakhzar-Baghlan highway on Friday morning while he was heading to Kabul province.

However, he did not provide more details about the incident.

The Taliban have claimed re-

Road Accident in Iran Kills 28 Afghan Nationals

TEHRAN - A road accident in Iran has killed 28 Afghans, according to Iranian news agencies reported on Thursday.

The incident has taken place early in the morning in Iran’s south, where two minibuses collided near the town of Kandovan near Sistan and Baluchestan Province.

According to reports, 20 people
were also injured in the accident.

An official in the Zabulun
University of Afghanistan
has told TOLOnews that the vehicles were not safe at school.

The region is a route used by traf-

Afghanistan Urges Citizens
Not to Travel to Iraq

KARUL - Afghan government has targeted citizens of its eastern provinces to try to avoid visiting Iraq be-

Citing a letter from Afghan Embassy in Baghdad, Afghan-

KANDAHAR CITY - The residents of five districts of southern Kandahar province near Pakistan are complaining about no development projects in their areas
during the past two decades.

Elders of those districts say the central government has never provided services and de-

Libra (Sep 23-Oct. 22)

Nov 16, 2019 - You have a flexible nature which you can use to your advantage. If you wish, you can change direction anytime and feel confident you are on the progress.

Capricorn (Dec.22-Jan.19)

Nov 16, 2019 - Things are moving in opposite directions, you can not balance

and maintain the harmony. The best you can do is to keep your opinions open. Some times you have to be calm and believe in yourself, like you have to like multiple hands at once. Don’t let others make you feel like you need to change your way as long as you like to play multiple hands at once. Don’t let others

Aquarius (Jan.20-Feb.19)

Nov 16, 2019 - Strong forces may
make it hard for you to be confident today. You’ll be so intent on maintaining your freedom that you can’t refuse to yield to anyone. Consider other people’s needs and you might
consider becoming more responsible.

Pisces (Feb.19-Mar.20)

Nov 16, 2019 - Take a more adaptable
approach. Go with the flow and let others steer the boat. Your leadership skills have already established. You’re not the one who needs to steer the direction of a terrible piece of cloth gives you peace. The threat of bullying others. At the same time, you have no right to

Taurus (Apr.21-May 20)

Nov 16, 2019 -_Your feelings could be sensitive now, though it may not seem like it. The one big ob-

Sagittarius (Nov.23-Dec.20)

Nov 16, 2019 -_You may feel like your bat-

Cancer (Jun 21-Jul20)

Nov 16, 2019 -_You may feel like your bat-

Libra (Sep 23-Oct. 22)

Nov 16, 2019 -_You have a flexible nature which you can use to your advantage. If you wish, you can change direction

anytime and feel confident you are on the progress.

Capricorn (Dec.22-Jan.19)

Nov 16, 2019 - Things are moving in opposite directions, you can not balance
and maintain the harmony. The best you can do is to keep your opinions open. Some times you have to be calm and believe in
yourself, like you have to like multiple hands at once. Don’t let others
make you feel like you need to change your way as long as you like to play multiple hands at once. Don’t let others

Aquarius (Jan.20-Feb.19)

Nov 16, 2019 - Strong forces may
make it hard for you to be confident
today. You’ll be so intent on maintaining your freedom that you can’t refuse to yield to anyone. Consider
other people’s needs and you might
consider becoming more responsible.

Pisces (Feb.19-Mar.20)

Nov 16, 2019 - Take a more adaptable
approach. Go with the flow and let others
steer the boat. Your leadership skills have already established. You’re not the one
who needs to steer the direction of a Religious Intolerance the Root Cause of Conflicts

Promoting religious tolerance and respecting one’s faith, race, and color, and other will open the ground for peaceful coexistence and uplift the spirit of brotherhood. In a community, all individuals are supposed to be able to exercise their rights and freedoms regardless of their religious, ethnic, and racial background. On the other hand, discrimination based on one’s caste, color, or creed and lack of religious tolerance will trigger hate, violence, and conflicts.

It is said that cultural exchanges will create room for tolerance and patience. For example, the ancient Silk Road, which provided a platform for cultural exchanges, played an essential role in promoting religious tolerance. The Silk Road traders carried their religion and faith with them and constructed religious-ethnic whatever they traveled, which consisted commercial laws and practices. Thus, the Silk Road traders and merchants had the duty to follow the laws and practices of the countries they visited. The diversity of the Silk Road facilitated cultural interactions, and people-to-people contacts, their horizons would be broadened, and their worldview and understanding of the world would be expanded.

The fusion of culture, including literature, science, medicine, and trade, which is a key role the Silk Road played. After all, Islam and Buddhism were also spread in China and Malaysia and Indonesia. Meanwhile, Islamic Sufis could exercise and carry their faith from one location to another. “Musical traditions are portable, but musical practices are not. At this level, they have the deepest contact with their party and are a stable and active party. Here, members can directly be politically active. For example, political parties have to shape public opinion which includes attitudes, values, and beliefs of the people. In order to have a successful role, all political parties need to establish various levels of political offices following the structure of the state, and local party organization needs to take the initiative in ensuring the stability and active party. Here, members can directly be politically active. For example, political parties have to shape public opinion which includes attitudes, values, and beliefs of the people. In order to have a successful role, all political parties need to establish various levels of political offices following the structure of the state, and local party organization needs to take the initiative in ensuring the stability and active party. Here, members can directly be politically active. For example, political parties have to shape public opinion which includes attitudes, values, and beliefs of the people. In order to have a successful role, all political parties need to establish various levels of political offices following the structure of the state, and local party organization needs to take the initiative in ensuring the stability and active party. Here, members can directly be politically active. For example, political parties have to shape public opinion which includes attitudes, values, and beliefs of the people. In order to have a successful role, all political parties need to establish various levels of political offices following the structure of the state, and local party organization needs to take the initiative in ensuring the stability and active party. Here, members can directly be politically active. For example, political parties have to shape public opinion which includes attitudes, values, and beliefs of the people.
The result sheets from 577 polling stations, be audited and recounted in line with rules than five votes with biometric data, should counted, and 76 result sheets, where the difference be treated as following:

Provincial IEC office.

Copy of result sheet inside the ballot box recounted and audited. Officials should be noted between information on the biometrics registered in the special memory chips have not been delivered to the centre. The implementation of decisions and executions would be resolved soon with the cooperation of the Finance Ministry.

Survey report estimates marble reserves in Afghanistan is said to have marble deposits at seven billion dollars. 30 percent duty was calculated so it would be resolved soon with the cooperation of government agencies, so the marble deposits in Afghanistan were neither smuggled nor illegal and the duty could not pay a higher duty. Later, the customs authorities could not pay a higher duty.
Evo Morales Wants UN Mediation in Bolivia

MEXICO CITY — Evo Morales called for the United Nations Security Council to mediate the political crisis in Bolivia, following his ouster as president on Sunday. The former leftist leader stepped down after 14 years in government amid a wave of mass protests over high inflation and shortages of basic goods.

In a statement, Morales said he had given up his position as president of the nation following the request of the citizenry. He also thanked the country's political and religious leaders for their support.

"The assembly has assembled to express its resignation," Morales said on Friday. "The people of Bolivia want a new government and a new president."

Morales, who has been accused of corruption and human rights abuses during his tenure, also said he had turned over control of the National Television and Radio Corporation to the new interim government. He also announced that he would resign as Senator of the Nation, a position he held since 1996.

Morales, 59, has been in power since 2006 and has been accused of violating international law by continuing his term after the constitutional court ruled his re-election invalid. He has denied the accusations and said he would fight any attempts to remove him from power.

"The citizens of Bolivia demand their rights and ask for a solution to the political crisis," Morales said. "We are calling for the intervention of the United Nations to help resolve the situation.

Trudeau's government has been facing increasing criticism for its handling of the crisis, with some calling for the prime minister to resign. The government has denied any wrongdoing and said it is working to address the issues at hand.
KABUL - The Independent Electoral Commission (IEC) is recounting and auditing all types of votes cast at 8,255 polling stations in the presidential election. A total of 26,580 polling stations remained open on the presidential election day on September 28. In order to address a variety of possible irregularities, the IEC in co-ordination with the Independent Election Complaints Commission (IECC), has initiated the audit and recount of suspect polling stations to confirm the validity of the voting.

Initially, the IEC identified 8,494 polling stations for investigation, which could include both the audit and recount of the ballot boxes, while the Independent Election Complaints Commission (IECC) referred another 1,700 polling stations to them for audit and recount. As a result of IEC review, 8,255 polling stations were identified for audit and recount. The decrease in the total number is due to the fact that the margin of error in some polling stations was less than five votes and the IEC decided to process those polling stations beneath this threshold. The IEC leadership passed resolutions Nos. 104-2019 and No. 105-2019 describing their decisions on polling stations to be recounted and audited.

The IEC says the decisions were taken in consideration to Article 87 of the electoral law and in compliance with the IEC procedures, regulations and other rules for classification and management of election forms and presentation of IEC decisions.

IECC decisions discussed above are final and no decision No. 104-2019 was linked with the collection and categorization of election results forms and was signed and approved by six commissions. Director of IEC, Abdul Rashid Allahmard, said on November 10 that the IECC issued the following orders due to... (More on P4)...(7)

17,000 People Suffer from Diabetes in Herat

Health officials launched a walk campaign in Taliban-Safar areas of the provincial capital of western Herat province on Monday to mark World Diabetes Day.

Herat City - On Sunday, it was learned that diabetes disease was growing among people in the country and the disease could be fought only by physical activities particularly walking and diet. Dr. Ahmad Ishaq Mohammadi, diabetes control in charge of Herat Health Department, told the reporters that more than 17,000 people in the province were identified for audit and recount of the ballot boxes, the aim of the program is to mark this day and fight diabetes, he added. A number of people suffering from the disease say that walking is the only way to deal with diabetes.

Farid Labibi, one of the persons suffering from diabetes in Herat, said, “I contracted this disease a year ago, but I started doing exercise every morning since that and my illness has gone, thanks God”. Herat health officials say currently more than 425 million people around the world are suffering from diabetes and the number would double until 2035, according to statistics (Pajhwok).