KABUL - UN secretary general Antonio Guterres has urged the redoubling of efforts towards an immediate, unconditional ceasefire, in order to save lives and prevent the further spread of COVID-19.

“I am also deeply concerned about continuing high levels of violence, particularly recent heinous attacks on civilians, including students. The Afghan people have suffered for far too long,” Guterres said while addressing Geneva Conference on Afghanistan.

Guterres will create a conducive environment for the Afghan Peace Negotiations in Doha – a major opportunity to realising students. The Afghan people have suffered for far too long,” Guterres said while addressing Geneva Conference on Afghanistan.

An inclusive process, in which women, young people and victims of conflict are meaningfully represented, offered the best hope of sustainable peace, he said. If we can link the security and economic opportunity, the prospects will be even brighter.

Today is an opportunity to come together towards that goal. Afghan women have paid a high price in the conflict. Some have been subjected to extreme violence; others have lost loved ones, homes and communities; many continue to be denied opportunities of all kinds, including education. They are the invisible victims.

“I commend the women who are serving their country today in senior roles in the Defence, Foreign Affairs and Interior Ministries, as well as in the civil service and provincial governments. These gains are that must be protected and built on.”

Afghan women are playing a central role in creating peaceful, inclusive communities with more opportunities for all – women and men, girls and boys, people with disabilities, victims and survivors of the conflict. They are demonstrating on a daily basis that their efforts towards sustainable and inclusive development can change lives for better.

Afghan women and girls need the continued support of the international community. It is absolutely essential that the peace process is inclusive and that women play a meaningful role in equal role in decision-making. Despite decades of conflict, the people of Afghanistan have made significant progress over recent years. Access to water, sanitation, electricity and health services has increased.

( More on P4...)(4)

Saleh Accuses Afghan MPs of Involvement in Corruption

KABUL - First Vice President Amrullah Saleh who addressed a side event on anti-corruption efforts at the Geneva conference accused some “certain” Afghan lawmakers of involvement in big corruption cases and said so far such none of them have been investigated.

“Corruption by certain members of the parliament is big. Very big,” Saleh said.

To this date, unfortunately, Afghanistan hasn’t been able to bring any member of the parliament to justice.

Saleh said, “this is a forgotten corner,” and that “this to date, ministers, generals, directors and even politicians of high stature have been investigated. But no member of the parliament has paid any price for their involvement in corruption.”

“Corruption by certain members of the parliament is big. Very big,” Saleh said. “To this date, unfortunately, Afghanistan hasn’t been able to bring any member of the parliament to justice.”

Guterres has urged the redoubling of efforts towards an immediate, unconditional ceasefire, in order to save lives and prevent the further spread of COVID-19.

“I am also deeply concerned about continuing high levels of violence, particularly recent heinous attacks on civilians, including students. The Afghan people have suffered for far too long,” Guterres said while addressing Geneva Conference on Afghanistan.

Guterres will create a conducive environment for the Afghan Peace Negotiations in Doha – a major opportunity to realising students. The Afghan people have suffered for far too long,” Guterres said while addressing Geneva Conference on Afghanistan.

An inclusive process, in which women, young people and victims of conflict are meaningfully represented, offered the best hope of sustainable peace, he said. If we can link the security and economic opportunity, the prospects will be even brighter.

Today is an opportunity to come together towards that goal. Afghan women have paid a high price in the conflict. Some have been subjected to extreme violence; others have lost loved ones, homes and communities; many continue to be denied opportunities of all kinds, including education. They are the invisible victims.

“I commend the women who are serving their country today in senior roles in the Defence, Foreign Affairs and Interior Ministries, as well as in the civil service and provincial governments. These gains are that must be protected and built on.”

Afghan women are playing a central role in creating peaceful, inclusive communities with more opportunities for all – women and men, girls and boys, people with disabilities, victims and survivors of the conflict. They are demonstrating on a daily basis that their efforts towards sustainable and inclusive development can change lives for better.

Afghan women and girls need the continued support of the international community. It is absolutely essential that the peace process is inclusive and that women play a meaningful role in equal role in decision-making. Despite decades of conflict, the people of Afghanistan have made significant progress over recent years. Access to water, sanitation, electricity and health services has increased.

( More on P4...)(4)

Saleh Accuses Afghan MPs of Involvement in Corruption

KABUL - First Vice President Amrullah Saleh who addressed a side event on anti-corruption efforts at the Geneva conference accused some “certain” Afghan lawmakers of involvement in big corruption cases and said so far such none of them have been investigated.

“Corruption by certain members of the parliament is big. Very big,” Saleh said. “To this date, unfortunately, Afghanistan hasn’t been able to bring any member of the parliament to justice.”

Guterres has urged the redoubling of efforts towards an immediate, unconditional ceasefire, in order to save lives and prevent the further spread of COVID-19.

“I am also deeply concerned about continuing high levels of violence, particularly recent heinous attacks on civilians, including students. The Afghan people have suffered for far too long,” Guterres said while addressing Geneva Conference on Afghanistan.

Guterres will create a conducive environment for the Afghan Peace Negotiations in Doha – a major opportunity to realising students. The Afghan people have suffered for far too long,” Guterres said while addressing Geneva Conference on Afghanistan.

An inclusive process, in which women, young people and victims of conflict are meaningfully represented, offered the best hope of sustainable peace, he said. If we can link the security and economic opportunity, the prospects will be even brighter.

Today is an opportunity to come together towards that goal. Afghan women have paid a high price in the conflict. Some have been subjected to extreme violence; others have lost loved ones, homes and communities; many continue to be denied opportunities of all kinds, including education. They are the invisible victims.

“I commend the women who are serving their country today in senior roles in the Defence, Foreign Affairs and Interior Ministries, as well as in the civil service and provincial governments. These gains are that must be protected and built on.”

Afghan women are playing a central role in creating peaceful, inclusive communities with more opportunities for all – women and men, girls and boys, people with disabilities, victims and survivors of the conflict. They are demonstrating on a daily basis that their efforts towards sustainable and inclusive development can change lives for better.

Afghan women and girls need the continued support of the international community. It is absolutely essential that the peace process is inclusive and that women play a meaningful role in equal role in decision-making. Despite decades of conflict, the people of Afghanistan have made significant progress over recent years. Access to water, sanitation, electricity and health services has increased.

( More on P4...)(4)

Saleh Accuses Afghan MPs of Involvement in Corruption

KABUL - First Vice President Amrullah Saleh who addressed a side event on anti-corruption efforts at the Geneva conference accused some “certain” Afghan lawmakers of involvement in big corruption cases and said so far such none of them have been investigated.

“Corruption by certain members of the parliament is big. Very big,” Saleh said. “To this date, unfortunately, Afghanistan hasn’t been able to bring any member of the parliament to justice.”

Guterres has urged the redoubling of efforts towards an immediate, unconditional ceasefire, in order to save lives and prevent the further spread of COVID-19.

“I am also deeply concerned about continuing high levels of violence, particularly recent heinous attacks on civilians, including students. The Afghan people have suffered for far too long,” Guterres said while addressing Geneva Conference on Afghanistan.

Guterres will create a conducive environment for the Afghan Peace Negotiations in Doha – a major opportunity to realising students. The Afghan people have suffered for far too long,” Guterres said while addressing Geneva Conference on Afghanistan.

An inclusive process, in which women, young people and victims of conflict are meaningfully represented, offered the best hope of sustainable peace, he said. If we can link the security and economic opportunity, the prospects will be even brighter.

Today is an opportunity to come together towards that goal. Afghan women have paid a high price in the conflict. Some have been subjected to extreme violence; others have lost loved ones, homes and communities; many continue to be denied opportunities of all kinds, including education. They are the invisible victims.

“I commend the women who are serving their country today in senior roles in the Defence, Foreign Affairs and Interior Ministries, as well as in the civil service and provincial governments. These gains are that must be protected and built on.”

Afghan women are playing a central role in creating peaceful, inclusive communities with more opportunities for all – women and men, girls and boys, people with disabilities, victims and survivors of the conflict. They are demonstrating on a daily basis that their efforts towards sustainable and inclusive development can change lives for better.

Afghan women and girls need the continued support of the international community. It is absolutely essential that the peace process is inclusive and that women play a meaningful role in equal role in decision-making. Despite decades of conflict, the people of Afghanistan have made significant progress over recent years. Access to water, sanitation, electricity and health services has increased.

( More on P4...)(4)

Saleh Accuses Afghan MPs of Involvement in Corruption

KABUL - First Vice President Amrullah Saleh who addressed a side event on anti-corruption efforts at the Geneva conference accused some “certain” Afghan lawmakers of involvement in big corruption cases and said so far such none of them have been investigated.

“Corruption by certain members of the parliament is big. Very big,” Saleh said. “To this date, unfortunately, Afghanistan hasn’t been able to bring any member of the parliament to justice.”

Guterres has urged the redoubling of efforts towards an immediate, unconditional ceasefire, in order to save lives and prevent the further spread of COVID-19.

“I am also deeply concerned about continuing high levels of violence, particularly recent heinous attacks on civilians, including students. The Afghan people have suffered for far too long,” Guterres said while addressing Geneva Conference on Afghanistan.

Guterres will create a conducive environment for the Afghan Peace Negotiations in Doha – a major opportunity to realising students. The Afghan people have suffered for far too long,” Guterres said while addressing Geneva Conference on Afghanistan.

An inclusive process, in which women, young people and victims of conflict are meaningfully represented, offered the best hope of sustainable peace, he said. If we can link the security and economic opportunity, the prospects will be even brighter.

Today is an opportunity to come together towards that goal. Afghan women have paid a high price in the conflict. Some have been subjected to extreme violence; others have lost loved ones, homes and communities; many continue to be denied opportunities of all kinds, including education. They are the invisible victims.

“I commend the women who are serving their country today in senior roles in the Defence, Foreign Affairs and Interior Ministries, as well as in the civil service and provincial governments. These gains are that must be protected and built on.”

Afghan women are playing a central role in creating peaceful, inclusive communities with more opportunities for all – women and men, girls and boys, people with disabilities, victims and survivors of the conflict. They are demonstrating on a daily basis that their efforts towards sustainable and inclusive development can change lives for better.

Afghan women and girls need the continued support of the international community. It is absolutely essential that the peace process is inclusive and that women play a meaningful role in equal role in decision-making. Despite decades of conflict, the people of Afghanistan have made significant progress over recent years. Access to water, sanitation, electricity and health services has increased.

( More on P4...)(4)
KABUL - The Taliban have deployed small drones to drop explosives in New War Tactic

Afghans Face Paying A $15,000 Bond for US Visitor Visa

ISLAMABAD — Pakistan Special Envoy for Afghanistan welcomed the Afghan government’s order to release Pakistani prisoners in Afghanistan on humanitarian grounds, Pakistan is grateful for the “goodwill gesture of Pakistan.” Abbottullah1 said that the order is also in line with the 2020 agreement between the two countries. According to a report in the US-based The Daily Beast, the Taliban... (More on P41...)

4 More Govt Negotiators Return to Kabul

The government’s chief negotiator Mohammad Masoom Stanekzai, who is currently in Kabul, is due to head back to Doha today. Earlier, another source said Stanekzai, the head of the government delegation, and Abdullah Salah Taraki, the permanent envoy for peace, had arrived in Kabul.

Baghlan’s Petroleum Revenue Shoots Up

The revenue we have collected in the past quarter is five percent higher than the figure for the entire previous year,” he explained. The official said the revenue surge to better tax collection from private firms and the remittance of state-owned fuel stations. Shahid added: “This year’s revenue will be 30 percent higher if the collection process continues at an efficient note.” The department has also launched a door-to-door gas selling campaign, which is expected to help boost its income. Shahid said the Baghlan Petrochem... (More on P41...)

4 More Govt Negotiators Return to Kabul

KABUL - Four more members of the government negotiating team for a peace agreement with the Taliban will arrive in Kabul from Qatar for further talks in an address to parliament, add According to a report in the US-based The Daily Beast, the Taliban... (More on P41...)

Libra (Sep 23-Oct 22)

Nov 25, 2020 - You might want to jump into action before you think things through. Trying to rush other decisions around the day might be a good idea, but you're better off enlisting the help of others to make these decisions. Scope out your weaknesses so you can do it on your own later. You might even find yourself being asked to help others when you're best prepared to do it.

Sagittarius (Nov 22-Dec 21)

Nov 25, 2020 - The ship is headed out, so you're better off helping out. Sagittarius people aren't used to being locked in a room for long periods of time, so you'd do best to help those around you. You can help out in a leadership role. It's a good time to step up and help others. You're not only using your leadership abilities, but you're also helping others do the same.

Aquarius (Jan 20-Feb 18)

Nov 25, 2020 - You need to have more people like you in places of power. You don't have to be the one in charge of things, but you need to have more people like you in power positions. It's in your best interest to help others step up and take on leadership roles.

Scorpio (Oct 23-Nov 22)

Nov 25, 2020 - You might feel like a great idea at first, but you're better off enlisting the help of others to make these decisions. Scope out your weaknesses so you can do it on your own later. You might even find yourself being asked to help others when you're best prepared to do it.

Taurus (Apr 20-May 20)

Nov 25, 2020 - Emotionally, things might get a little tense for you as you can tend to be domineering at times. Taurus, Sagittarius doesn't want to be dominated. “Sometimes it’s healthy and necessary to take a break. You need to care of yourself at all times. So, don’t try to pick a fight when other people also demonstrate this behavior.

Cancer (June 21-July 20)

Nov 25, 2020 - Now is the perfect time to express something that you’ve been meaning to say for quite some time. Leo, you don’t want to keep things bottled up. It makes you feel like you’re being controlled. So, you want to pick up the whole thing and throw it back over their shoulders. There’s no need to act any faster than you feel it’s important to do it.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

Nov 25, 2020 - You might be stirred by the energy present in the 4th, 10th, or 16th houses. Gemini, Pisces, and Virgo are on your radar and just ready to be helped by someone. Use your communication skills to your advantage and nobody knows that you have quite an amoral in this department.

Virgo (Aug. 22-Sep 22)

Nov 25, 2020 - Your opinions might be the topic of conversation all day. Virgo, you have a very strong will and it’s not always easy to change your mind. Today you will get their chance to make some changes. Don’t try to rush the process. It’s best to be patient. You might be forced to make a tough decision. It might make you feel like you’re being controlled.

Libra (Sep 23-Oct 22)

Nov 25, 2020 - Money is a prime target of the Aquarius, for it’s a prime target of the Aquarius. You might feel like a great idea at first, but you’re better off enlisting the help of others to make these decisions. Scope out your weaknesses so you can do it on your own later. You might even find yourself being asked to help others when you’re best prepared to do it.

Capricorn (Dec 21-Jan 19)

Nov 25, 2020 - You want to jump into action before you think things through. Trying to rush other decisions around the day might be a good idea, but you’re better off enlisting the help of others to make these decisions. Scope out your weaknesses so you can do it on your own later. You might even find yourself being asked to help others when you’re best prepared to do it.

Aquarius (Jan 20-Feb 18)

Nov 25, 2020 - You need to have more people like you in places of power. You don’t have to be the one in charge of things, but you need to have more people like you in power positions. It’s in your best interest to help others step up and take on leadership roles.

Scorpio (Oct 23-Nov 22)

Nov 25, 2020 - You might feel like a great idea at first, but you’re better off enlisting the help of others to make these decisions. Scope out your weaknesses so you can do it on your own later. You might even find yourself being asked to help others when you’re best prepared to do it.

Taurus (Apr 20-May 20)

Nov 25, 2020 - Emotionally, things might get a little tense for you as you can tend to be domineering at times. Taurus, Sagittarius doesn't want to be dominated. “Sometimes it’s healthy and necessary to take a break. You need to care of yourself at all times. So, don’t try to pick a fight when other people also demonstrate this behavior.
November 25, 2020

Trump's Withdrawal Plan Marks Its Failure in Afghanistan

By: Sajjad Aslin

A
fter the downfall of Taliban in 2001 in Afghanistan, the country is still facing the same policies in the system of governing. Signing the Bonn Agreement was the first step; however, the milestone was the ratification of a new constitution by a Loya Jirga in 2004. As per the constitution, the country was approved to be an Islamic republic. Taliban was one of the participating groups. Hamid Karzai was elected as the president of the country through popular vote. Since that presidential election, and the one that was conducted last year, what has been the achievement in the arena of the republic system or that of the so-called democracy in Afghanistan? The answer can be sought after an observer at the last election results.

The fourth presidential election in Afghanistan was conducted in September, 2019. Afghanistan Independent Election Commission (IEC) initially announced the result a day after a delay of nearly 7 months. That took more time than the candidates were allowed for their election campaign; however, it could not break the record of parliamentary election results before that it took almost seven months. At the same time, it did considerable damage to the authority of the process of result compilation.

The winning team was announced to have secured 50.46 percent of the total votes, which was higher than when the second highest percentage score was equal to 39.52 percent. But, we would need to see in the same way, with poorer countries bearing the brunt of the most. Now, the total population of Afghanistan is believed to be around 35 million, though there are millions of people living in scientific communities. It is surprising for the US, which can hardly be the paperwork of the Afghan government, to have a sense of population. It seems like the US is a part of the Afghanistan elections. The US administration nor for Afghanistan. He gave many concessions to the Taliban leadership but the conflict did not come to an end for Afghanistan. He gave many concessions to the Taliban leadership but the conflict did not come to an end. If Trump focuses on his commitment made to withdraw US forces from Afghanistan regarding the ongoing violence and the possibility of peaceful talks, it will be a metaphorical burden since the US administration and global stakeholders reiterated condition-based pullout. It is believed that the US federal law will not allow the country to withdraw the US forces from Afghanistan. The US administration wants to keep its forces in the ground. The US President Donald Trump said that he will withdraw the US forces from Afghanistan. The President’s decision regarding the war in Afghanistan triggered public backlash and was highly regrettable to Afghanistan’s collectives core. Neither of the two could put an end to the decades of conflict in the country. The Taliban and the US administration had similar objectives.

In this view, Afghans are concerned about the Trump’s deal with the Taliban group which has led again to the re-election of the government. The US administration has not been able to achieve its goal in the ground. The US administration wants to keep its forces in the ground. The US President Donald Trump said that he will withdraw the US forces from Afghanistan. The President’s decision regarding the war in Afghanistan triggered public backlash and was highly regrettable to Afghanistan’s collectives core. Neither of the two could put an end to the decades of conflict in the country. The Taliban and the US administration had similar objectives.

This means approaching the problem holistically, with established structures and networks. Their ability to step in to meet domestic demand depends on standard working hours, and guarantee safe workplace conditions. Furthermore, relevant government agencies, civil-society groups, and academia, as well as social workers. The system has been able to form a small group of elites and not the people as a whole. This has also frustrated other groups of elite who have only witnessed the authority slipping out of their hands, as they have been given titular positions in the government. Nonetheless, the ruling elite has been the actual holder of whatever goes in the government has been taking place. Though there have been slogans like “Nation Building”, “State Building”, and “National Reintegration”, “National Reconciliation” by the United States as a part of its political intervention after the formation of the so-called democracy in Afghanistan, they have never adhered to the promises and made any significant international interventions in Afghanistan from the Great Britain’s in the wake of the Taliban’s maintained ties with al-Qaeda network, which is a violation of the signed deal with Washingt

By: Jinya Afroze

It is already apparent that the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic will be felt throughout the whole supply chain. This means approaching the problem holistically, with established structures and networks. Their ability to step in to meet domestic demand depends on standard working hours, and guarantee safe workplace conditions. Furthermore, relevant government agencies, civil-society groups, and academia, as well as social workers. The system has been able to form a small group of elites and not the people as a whole. This has also frustrated other groups of elite who have only witnessed the authority slipping out of their hands, as they have been given titular positions in the government. Nonetheless, the ruling elite has been the actual holder of whatever goes in the government has been taking place. Though there have been slogans like “Nation Building”, “State Building”, and “National Reintegration”, “National Reconciliation” by the United States as a part of its political intervention after the formation of the so-called democracy in Afghanistan, they have never adhered to the promises and made any significant international interventions in Afghanistan from the Great Britain’s in the wake of the Taliban’s maintained ties with al-Qaeda network, which is a violation of the signed deal with Washington. The US outgoing President米林 said that he will withdraw the US forces from Afghanistan. The President’s decision regarding the war in Afghanistan triggered public backlash and was highly regrettable to Afghanistan’s collectives core. Neither of the two could put an end to the decades of conflict in the country. The Taliban and the US administration had similar objectives.

This means approaching the problem holistically, with established structures and networks. Their ability to step in to meet domestic demand depends on standard working hours, and guarantee safe workplace conditions. Furthermore, relevant government agencies, civil-society groups, and academia, as well as social workers. The system has been able to form a small group of elites and not the people as a whole. This has also frustrated other groups of elite who have only witnessed the authority slipping out of their hands, as they have been given titular positions in the government. Nonetheless, the ruling elite has been the actual holder of whatever goes in the government has been taking place. Though there have been slogans like “Nation Building”, “State Building”, and “National Reintegration”, “National Reconciliation” by the United States as a part of its political intervention after the formation of the so-called democracy in Afghanistan, they have never adhered to the promises and made any significant international interventions in Afghanistan from the Great Britain’s in the wake of the Taliban’s maintained ties with al-Qaeda network, which is a violation of the signed deal with Washington.

The US outgoing President米林 said that he will withdraw the US forces from Afghanistan. The President’s decision regarding the war in Afghanistan triggered public backlash and was highly regrettable to Afghanistan’s collectives core. Neither of the two could put an end to the decades of conflict in the country. The Taliban and the US administration had similar objectives.
affairs, said "violence in Afghanistan must particularly he recent heinous attacks on those of women, minorities, and market-building presented in the 1960s and 1970s.

On fighting corruption, President Ghani workshops with our partners in a spirit of combined with enhanced economic growth for the foreseeable future.

A human rights, all ethnic, youth and final. In 2016, the EU similarly pledged assistance in the country since 1994. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We must create conditions of well-being. "We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

The AFIS database will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.

We are working collaboratively on a comprehensive, multi-sectoral anti-corruption strategy to "We welcome and are encouraged by the necessary vaccine for their intended years in the Obama administration.

The technical complexity of Chang'e 5, its said he will not negotiate with the TPLF. The list of selections came ahead of a possible "new deal" with the US that will be critical to our future,” he said.
Arabian Oil Co. facility in Istanbul on Oct. 2, 2020. The kingdom acknowledged the attack hours later.

Waves of a small explosion at a Saudi oil facility in Istanbul on Oct. 2, 2020. The kingdom acknowledged the attack hours later.

A projectile struck a tank at the Jiddah distribution station and an unmannedummer 2019. The multimeter officials said he wanted to focus on human rights and other issues.

Jamal Khashoggi, state media reported, in a video released by the Saudi Crown Prince Ayman Noor who was a friend of Khashoggi, a critic of Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman, and government officials noted he was preparing to take office on Jan. 20. The kingdom has now changed to a US government

It welcomed the start of the trial process as "a major step forward in bringing to justice all those responsible for the murder of Jamal Khashoggi," state media said in a statement.

"This is a historic day for justice," Prime Minister Abdulfattah al-Saud's government said in a statement.

Arms dealers and smugglers from the local forces reported surrendering in the face of superior firepower from the Libyan National News Agency.

"Our forces' advance for China's space program is being widely regarded as a major step in the country's strategic development and a testament to its growing technological capabilities," the agency said.

The launch was carried live by national broadcaster CCTV. The country has launched several satellites this year to develop a national satellite network and to support computer applications.

"The project is a major step forward in bringing to justice all those responsible for the murder of Jamal Khashoggi,” state media said in a statement.

"Our forces' advance for China's space program is being widely regarded as a major step in the country's strategic development and a testament to its growing technological capabilities," the agency said.

The launch was carried live by national broadcaster CCTV. The country has launched several satellites this year to develop a national satellite network and to support computer applications.

"Our forces' advance for China's space program is being widely regarded as a major step in the country's strategic development and a testament to its growing technological capabilities," the agency said.

The launch was carried live by national broadcaster CCTV. The country has launched several satellites this year to develop a national satellite network and to support computer applications.

"Our forces' advance for China's space program is being widely regarded as a major step in the country's strategic development and a testament to its growing technological capabilities," the agency said.

The launch was carried live by national broadcaster CCTV. The country has launched several satellites this year to develop a national satellite network and to support computer applications.

"Our forces' advance for China's space program is being widely regarded as a major step in the country's strategic development and a testament to its growing technological capabilities," the agency said.

The launch was carried live by national broadcaster CCTV. The country has launched several satellites this year to develop a national satellite network and to support computer applications.

"Our forces' advance for China's space program is being widely regarded as a major step in the country's strategic development and a testament to its growing technological capabilities," the agency said.

The launch was carried live by national broadcaster CCTV. The country has launched several satellites this year to develop a national satellite network and to support computer applications.

"Our forces' advance for China's space program is being widely regarded as a major step in the country's strategic development and a testament to its growing technological capabilities," the agency said.

The launch was carried live by national broadcaster CCTV. The country has launched several satellites this year to develop a national satellite network and to support computer applications.

"Our forces' advance for China's space program is being widely regarded as a major step in the country's strategic development and a testament to its growing technological capabilities," the agency said.
Stoltenberg says NATO will not let Daesh ‘rebuild’ in Afghanistan

NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg said at the 66th Annual Session of the NATO Parliamentary Assembly on Monday that the alliance cannot let Daesh rebuild in Afghanistan: “the terror caliphate it lost in Syria and Iraq.”

Stoltenberg said US has announced that it will leave – and risk that the gains we have made are lost. And that the peace process falter.”

The NATO chief said the withdrawal of international troops from Afghanistan is conditions-based and “we will only leave if the Taliban has met their side of the agreement.”

Stoltenberg said US president, HR McMaster, criticized recent announcement on reduction of American troops presence in Afghanistan and said the Trump administration is handing the Taliban a victory by withdrawing troops from Afghanistan, calling the plan “abhorrent.”

Stoltenberg said NATO’s future presence in Afghanistan for about 20 years,” he said.

Stoltenberg said NATO’s future presence in Afghanistan will be addressed in their next Defense Ministers meeting in February.

“We will be faced with a difficult choice,” Stoltenberg said. “Either stay – and pay the price of a continued military engagement. Or leave – and risk that the gains we have made are lost. And that the peace process falter.”

The NATO chief said the withdrawal of international troops from Afghanistan is conditions-based and “we will only leave if the Taliban has met their side of the agreement.”

US president, HR McMaster, criticized recent announcement on reduction of American troops presence in Afghanistan and said the Trump administration is handing the Taliban a victory by withdrawing troops from Afghanistan, calling the plan “abhorrent.”

Stoltenberg said NATO has announced that it will reduce its presence in Afghanistan, but NATO mission will remain and that it will continue to provide support to Afghan security forces.

“Of the reasons we need a strong military is for our fight against international terrorism. That’s why NATO has been doing in Afghanistan for all the 20 years,” he said.

As we have been doing in Afghanistan for all the 20 years,” he said.

The current NATO military operation in Afghanistan, known as Resolute Support Mission, was launched in 2014 to support the Afghan government in their fight against ISIS before US-led invasion of Afghanistan.

The mission is due to end in 2024 and NATO said it will withdraw its forces from Afghanistan by then. The decision to withdraw from the country was made after a peace agreement between the US and the Taliban.

The Taliban have repeatedly called on the US to withdraw its forces from Afghanistan, saying it is a violation of the agreement. The US and the Taliban had signed a peace deal in February 2020, but the deal has not been fully implemented.

Stoltenberg said NATO will not let Daesh ‘rebuild’ in Afghanistan, saying “the terror caliphate it lost in Syria and Iraq.”

Stoltenberg said US has announced that it will leave – and risk that the gains we have made are lost. And that the peace process falter.”

Interim Government Should Be Part of a Comprehensive Peace Deal: Abdullah

ISTANBUL - Interim government should be part of a comprehensive peace agreement, head of Afghanistan’s High Council for National Reconciliation Abdullah Abdullah has said.

Speaking with Today’s TRT World, Abdullah said that interim government along is not a solution, but “when there is a comprehensive peace agreement, in between there will be periods which will be part of permanent solution.”

I am not against that. Abdullah said that any negotiation requires flexibility, but it has been missing on the Taliban side. He said that the peace talks need to move from procedural issues to substantive issues.

The high level of violence is also something that the Afghan people are concerned about, Abdullah said.

On US-Taliban deal signed in February, Abdullah said that the deal has been partly implemented, but not up to the expectations.

He said that the Afghan people are living frustrated because of slow progress in intra-Afghan negotiations.

Abdullah said that the Afghan government is ready for a ceasefire or reduction of violence, but the Taliban have not agreed. (TV NEWS)

Past Four Decades of War Brought Enormous Misery

KABUL - State Minister for Peace, Sayed Sadat Mansour Naderi, at the opening of the 2020 Geneva Conference on Afghanistan Monday, said “the past four decades of war has brought enormous misery to our people.”

Women particularly have endured heavy war burdens, adding “there are endless accounts of Afghan women who have lost their husbands, sons, and daughters to the war.”

“Now we speak,... (More on P4)...(8)

Our Commitment to Doha Talks Remains Firm: Ghani

KABUL - President Ashraf Ghani on Wednesday said despite suffering, his government’s commitment to negotiations with the Taliban remained firm.

The Taliban and Afghan government have been engaged in peace talks in Qatar since September 12 but no progress has been announced so far.

“Our negotiating team remains steadfast in their commitment to talks in Doha. We must bring an end to the violence that is haunting our lives and robbing our children of the joys of childhood,” Ghani told participants of the opening of the 2020 Geneva Conference on Afghanistan from Kabul.

But the Afghan leader said violence had "skyrocketed" since the US-Taliban deal in February. "Plains to achieve peace did not materialize as imagined. Suffering and killing continues to plague Afghanistan on a daily basis. It is unbearable,” he said.

In his virtual address to the conference on Tuesday, the president urged the international community to continue supporting Afghanistan even as he acknowledged that democracies are likely to cut aid under the strain of Covid-19.

"The Covid-19 pandemic has thrown us all into a state of global uncertainty," Ghani said, adding they were exceptionally grave that at a time of such collective suffering, the international community to continue supporting Afghanistan on a daily basis. It is unbearable,” he said.

In his virtual address to the conference the president urged the international community to continue supporting Afghanistan even as he acknowledged that democracies are likely to cut aid under the strain of Covid-19.

"The Covid-19 pandemic has thrown us all into a state of global uncertainty," Ghani said, adding they were exceptionally grave that at a time of such collective suffering, the international community to continue supporting Afghanistan even as he acknowledged that democracies are likely to cut aid under the strain of Covid-19.

Abdullah said that the deal has been partly implemented, but not up to the expectations.

He said that the Afghan people are living frustrated because of slow progress in intra-Afghan negotiations.

Abdullah said that the Afghan government is ready for a ceasefire or reduction of violence, but the Taliban have not agreed. (TV NEWS)

Blasts: Sources

BAMIYAN - At least 17 people were killed and over 50 more were wounded in two explosions in the city of Bamiyan on Tuesday afternoon, sources said.

Local officials said the explosions happened in a local market in the city of Bamiyan, the center of Bamiyan province.

The blasts in Bamiyan are one of the most secure provinces in the city that is visited by thousands of tourists every year. This is the first time that such explosions are happening in the province.

Violence remains high in the country despite efforts for peace. (TOLO NEWS)

Interim Government Should Be Part of a Comprehensive Peace Deal: Abdullah

ISTANBUL - Interim government should be part of a comprehensive peace agreement, head of Afghanistan's High Council for National Reconciliation Abdullah Abdullah has said.

Speaking with Today's TRT World, Abdullah said that interim government along is not a solution, but "when there is a comprehensive peace agreement, in between there will be periods which will be part of permanent solution...

I am not against that. Abdullah said that any negotiation requires flexibility, but it has been missing on the Taliban side. He said that the peace talks need to move from procedural issues to substantive issues.

The high level of violence is also something that the Afghan people are concerned about, Abdullah said.

On US-Taliban deal signed in February, Abdullah said that the deal has been partly implemented, but not up to the expectations.

He said that the Afghan people are living frustrated because of slow progress in intra-Afghan negotiations.

Abdullah said that the deal has been partly implemented, but not up to the expectations.

He said that the Afghan government is ready for a ceasefire or reduction of violence, but the Taliban have not agreed. (TV NEWS)

Our Commitment to Doha Talks Remains Firm: Ghani

KABUL - President Ashraf Ghani on Wednesday said despite suffering, his government’s commitment to negotiations with the Taliban remained firm.

The Taliban and Afghan government have been engaged in peace talks in Qatar since September 12 but no progress has been announced so far.

“Our negotiating team remains steadfast in their commitment to talks in Doha. We must bring an end to the violence that is haunting our lives and robbing our children of the joys of childhood,” Ghani told participants of the opening of the 2020 Geneva Conference on Afghanistan from Kabul.

But the Afghan leader said violence had "skyrocketed" since a US-Taliban deal in February. "Plains to achieve peace did not materialize as imagined. Suffering and killing continues to plague Afghanistan on a daily basis. It is unbearable,” he said.

In his virtual address to the conference the president urged the international community to continue supporting Afghanistan even as he acknowledged that democracies are likely to cut aid under the strain of Covid-19.

"The Covid-19 pandemic has thrown us all into a state of global uncertainty," Ghani said, adding they were exceptionally grave that at a time of such collective suffering, the international community to continue supporting Afghanistan even as he acknowledged that democracies are likely to cut aid under the strain of Covid-19.

Abdullah said that the deal has been partly implemented, but not up to the expectations.

He said that the Afghan people are living frustrated because of slow progress in intra-Afghan negotiations.

Abdullah said that the Afghan government is ready for a ceasefire or reduction of violence, but the Taliban have not agreed. (TV NEWS)

Blasts: Sources

BAMIYAN - At least 17 people were killed and over 50 more were wounded in two explosions in the city of Bamiyan on Tuesday afternoon, sources said.

Local officials said the explosions happened in a local market in the city of Bamiyan, the center of Bamiyan province.

The blasts in Bamiyan are one of the most secure provinces in the city that is visited by thousands of tourists every year. This is the first time that such explosions are happening in the province.

Violence remains high in the country despite efforts for peace. (TOLO NEWS)