5 Civilians Claimed Killed in Nangarhar Operation

JALALabad – Local residents on Monday claimed security forces killed five civilians and wounded two children during a clering operation in Surkhrod district of eastern Nangarhar province.

However, government officials said the operation was launched in pursuit of Taliban’s key intelligence leaders.

However, bodies of some civilians were brought to local health centers by local residents who claimed they were killed in the operation.

The residents wanted to take the bodies to the Jalalabad, the provincial capital, and place them in front of the government headquarters, but the security forces did not allow them to do so.

Mohammad Nazir Sayary, a protester, told Pajhwok Afghan News that security forces went to Balkhoo locality of the Salaka district late Sunday evening and targeted civilians.

He said five civilians were killed and two children wounded in the operation.

A number of other protesters expressed similar views about the incident and urged the government to launch investigations into the incident and arrest the perpetrators.
