discontinue of people having lived up from early Saturday morning.

Various problems about with the voter lists and said that there had been problems with the voter lists for several days. Residents said some polling stations opened late due to the voter list issues and also only opened at some centers.

"Most of the complaints are against the voter's registration lists, the second complaint was the voter list was not updated without voters," Ruhollah ismaili, a resident of Kandahar said. "What is clear is that the voter list is no longer correct because even those who were registered to vote are not able to register again and on the other hand, the voter list has been a success.

"Our government's answer to the voter list was not at all active and is a serious challenge to the city because the city is so active," Jawad said. "We have not been able to record our complaints. Meanwhile, the regional IEC office says that they have been working on the voter list issues, violations and election officials' fraud.

"The voter list is not important and the registration list is more important," Jawad said. "In the coming days, we will file a complaint to the election commission for the voter list.

October 29, 2018

Preparations in Afghanistan for the 2020 presidential elections.

The 2020 presidential elections in Afghanistan are scheduled to take place on October 28, 2020. The election is expected to be a crucial test for the government's ability to govern and manage the country's political and security challenges.

The election is scheduled to take place on October 28, 2020. The government has taken various measures to prepare for the election, including modernizing voter registration systems, improving voter education, and setting up polling stations.

The government has also been working to ensure the safety and security of voters, especially in areas where there are high levels of violence or instability. The election is expected to be a significant test for the government's ability to govern and manage the country's political and security challenges.

The election is scheduled to take place on October 28, 2020. The government has taken various measures to prepare for the election, including modernizing voter registration systems, improving voter education, and setting up polling stations.

The government has also been working to ensure the safety and security of voters, especially in areas where there are high levels of violence or instability. The election is expected to be a significant test for the government's ability to govern and manage the country's political and security challenges.

The election is scheduled to take place on October 28, 2020. The government has taken various measures to prepare for the election, including modernizing voter registration systems, improving voter education, and setting up polling stations.

The government has also been working to ensure the safety and security of voters, especially in areas where there are high levels of violence or instability. The election is expected to be a significant test for the government's ability to govern and manage the country's political and security challenges.

The election is scheduled to take place on October 28, 2020. The government has taken various measures to prepare for the election, including modernizing voter registration systems, improving voter education, and setting up polling stations.

The government has also been working to ensure the safety and security of voters, especially in areas where there are high levels of violence or instability. The election is expected to be a significant test for the government's ability to govern and manage the country's political and security challenges.

The election is scheduled to take place on October 28, 2020. The government has taken various measures to prepare for the election, including modernizing voter registration systems, improving voter education, and setting up polling stations.

The government has also been working to ensure the safety and security of voters, especially in areas where there are high levels of violence or instability. The election is expected to be a significant test for the government's ability to govern and manage the country's political and security challenges.