Karzai Accuses US of Aiding the ISIS Militants

KABUL - The former Afghan President Hamid Karzai has accused the US forces in Afghanistan for aiding the loyalists of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) terrorists in the country.

In an interview with the Russian Today, amidst the war against the IS in the country, the former President said, “I have more than suspicions.”

However, he added that reports regarding the alleged support to ISIS by the US forces are still unconfirmed.

Karzai went on to claim that extremism in Afghanistan has grown.

Karzai said he had heard reports that the ISIS was being supplied with helicopters. The former President further said that the ISIS were using unmanned military helicopters to transport people, not only in one part of the country, but in many regions.

“...this is a daily occurrence,” he said, claiming that the terror group has become more dependent on the United States.

Another Afghan interior ministry official, present at the Kabul meeting revealed the names of five Afghan journalists, including co-founder of Afghanistan Television Homayoon Forcibly and senior members of the so-called Quetta Shura Mullah Abdulrahman Nani, Mullah Sammad Sani, and Mullah Sammad Atmar was arrested from a seminar in Quetta’s Satellite Town along with four others on October 11, 2014, the Express Tribune said.

Homayoon Forcibly, journalist Abdul Haq Omari as saying. The two sides had agreed to principle on the issue in the meeting in the next session in the negotiations to exchange prisoners on either side of the border.

Kabul Seeks Handover of 5 Top Taliban in Pakistani Jails

In an attempt to step up efforts for peace and reconciliation, Afghanistan has asked Pakistan to hand it over top imprisoned militant commanders, a media report.

Karzai Accuses US of Aiding the ISIS Militants

KABUL - The former Afghan President Hamid Karzai has accused the US forces in Afghanistan for aiding the loyalists of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) terrorists in the country.

In an interview with the Russian Today, amidst the war against the IS in the country, the former President said, “I have more than suspicions.”

However, he added that reports regarding the alleged support to ISIS by the US forces are still unconfirmed.

Karzai went on to claim that extremism in Afghanistan has grown.

Pakistan No Longer Dependent on U.S. for Military, other Needs

ISLAMABAD - Prime Minister Shahid Khagan Abbasi has said Pakistan is no longer dependent on the United States to meet its military and other requirements and would reach out to others if one source dries up.

The former President further said that the terror group has become more dependent on the United States.

Another Afghan interior ministry official, present at the Kabul meeting revealed the names of five Afghan journalists, including co-founder of Afghanistan Television Homayoon Forcibly and senior members of the so-called Quetta Shura Mullah Abdulrahman Nani, Mullah Sammad Sani, and Mullah Sammad Atmar was arrested from a seminar in Quetta’s Satellite Town along with four others on October 11, 2014, the Express Tribune said.

Homayoon Forcibly, journalist Abdul Haq Omari as saying. The two sides had agreed to principle on the issue in the meeting in the next session in the negotiations to exchange prisoners on either side of the border.

Kabul Seeks Handover of 5 Top Taliban in Pakistani Jails

In an attempt to step up efforts for peace and reconciliation, Afghanistan has asked Pakistan to hand it over top imprisoned militant commanders, a media report.

Karzai Accuses US of Aiding the ISIS Militants

KABUL - The former Afghan President Hamid Karzai has accused the US forces in Afghanistan for aiding the loyalists of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) terrorists in the country.

In an interview with the Russian Today, amidst the war against the IS in the country, the former President said, “I have more than suspicions.”

However, he added that reports regarding the alleged support to ISIS by the US forces are still unconfirmed.

Karzai went on to claim that extremism in Afghanistan has grown.

Karzai said he had heard reports that the ISIS was being supplied with helicopters. The former President further said that the ISIS were using unmanned military helicopters to transport people, not only in one part of the country, but in many regions.

“...this is a daily occurrence,” he said, claiming that the terror group has become more dependent on the United States.

Another Afghan interior ministry official, present at the Kabul meeting revealed the names of five Afghan journalists, including co-founder of Afghanistan Television Homayoon Forcibly and senior members of the so-called Quetta Shura Mullah Abdulrahman Nani, Mullah Sammad Sani, and Mullah Sammad Atmar was arrested from a seminar in Quetta’s Satellite Town along with four others on October 11, 2014, the Express Tribune said.

Homayoon Forcibly, journalist Abdul Haq Omari as saying. The two sides had agreed to principle on the issue in the meeting in the next session in the negotiations to exchange prisoners on either side of the border.

Kabul Seeks Handover of 5 Top Taliban in Pakistani Jails

In an attempt to step up efforts for peace and reconciliation, Afghanistan has asked Pakistan to hand it over top imprisoned militant commanders, a media report.

Karzai Accuses US of Aiding the ISIS Militants

KABUL - The former Afghan President Hamid Karzai has accused the US forces in Afghanistan for aiding the loyalists of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) terrorists in the country.

In an interview with the Russian Today, amidst the war against the IS in the country, the former President said, “I have more than suspicions.”

However, he added that reports regarding the alleged support to ISIS by the US forces are still unconfirmed.

Karzai went on to claim that extremism in Afghanistan has grown.

Karzai said he had heard reports that the ISIS was being supplied with helicopters. The former President further said that the ISIS were using unmanned military helicopters to transport people, not only in one part of the country, but in many regions.

“...this is a daily occurrence,” he said, claiming that the terror group has become more dependent on the United States.

Another Afghan interior ministry official, present at the Kabul meeting revealed the names of five Afghan journalists, including co-founder of Afghanistan Television Homayoon Forcibly and senior members of the so-called Quetta Shura Mullah Abdulrahman Nani, Mullah Sammad Sani, and Mullah Sammad Atmar was arrested from a seminar in Quetta’s Satellite Town along with four others on October 11, 2014, the Express Tribune said.

Homayoon Forcibly, journalist Abdul Haq Omari as saying. The two sides had agreed to principle on the issue in the meeting in the next session in the negotiations to exchange prisoners on either side of the border.

Kabul Seeks Handover of 5 Top Taliban in Pakistani Jails

In an attempt to step up efforts for peace and reconciliation, Afghanistan has asked Pakistan to hand it over top imprisoned militant commanders, a media report.

Karzai Accuses US of Aiding the ISIS Militants

KABUL - The former Afghan President Hamid Karzai has accused the US forces in Afghanistan for aiding the loyalists of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) terrorists in the country.

In an interview with the Russian Today, amidst the war against the IS in the country, the former President said, “I have more than suspicions.”

However, he added that reports regarding the alleged support to ISIS by the US forces are still unconfirmed.

Karzai went on to claim that extremism in Afghanistan has grown.

Karzai said he had heard reports that the ISIS was being supplied with helicopters. The former President further said that the ISIS were using unmanned military helicopters to transport people, not only in one part of the country, but in many regions.

“...this is a daily occurrence,” he said, claiming that the terror group has become more dependent on the United States.

Another Afghan interior ministry official, present at the Kabul meeting revealed the names of five Afghan journalists, including co-founder of Afghanistan Television Homayoon Forcibly and senior members of the so-called Quetta Shura Mullah Abdulrahman Nani, Mullah Sammad Sani, and Mullah Sammad Atmar was arrested from a seminar in Quetta’s Satellite Town along with four others on October 11, 2014, the Express Tribune said.

Homayoon Forcibly, journalist Abdul Haq Omari as saying. The two sides had agreed to principle on the issue in the meeting in the next session in the negotiations to exchange prisoners on either side of the border.