Afghanistan’s Peace Weavers

By Tsadami Yamamoto

September 14, 2017

Insecurity Haunts Investment Initiatives

T
ough insecurity and lawlessness have been influencing almost all the sectors in Afghanistan, one of the most importante sectors that is badly suffering from the insecurity is the economic sector. The tendency of violence and theft and the lack of a strong rule of law have forced many investors not to enter Afghanistan, and even the ones who have already invested in Afghanistan are still facing unclear outcomes from their investments.

In order to attract investments, the Afghan government has been trying to attract investment in the country by promising a lot of incentives to foreign investors. But unfortunately, the Afghan government has not been able to attract foreign investors due to the insecurity in the country. The Afghan government has also been faced with several challenges and obstacles in order to attract foreign direct investment in the country. The lack of a strong legal framework, the lack of a stable economic environment, and the lack of a strong political framework have been some of the main challenges the Afghan government has faced.

Afghan Women’s Addiction to Narcotic Drugs

By Hujjatullah Zia

S
ories of Afghan women are addicted to narcotic drugs. To alleviate their pain and anxiety, about 90% of women in Afghanistan use drugs, men use drugs to mitigate the effects of their work. The graph of addiction to drugs is so on the rise in Afghanistan that it is difficult to find any sector that is untouched by the drug addiction.

The situation is worse in Afghanistan as drug-related crime is high and the government has not taken any effective steps to control it. The drug addiction among women is on the rise and it is a matter of concern for the government. Women in Afghanistan are more vulnerable to drug addiction as they are more susceptible to stress and anxiety. The government needs to take immediate action to control the problem of drug addiction among women.

Afghanistan is one of the countries where economic instability has given birth to political instability. As a result, the country has been suffering from income inequality, high unemployment, and poverty. The government needs to take urgent steps to control the problem of drug addiction among women.

The government needs to focus on providing education and health care to women. The government also needs to provide women with job opportunities. The government needs to take action to control the problem of drug addiction among women and ensure that women are not forced to use drugs.

The government needs to take action to control the problem of drug addiction among women and ensure that women are not forced to use drugs. The government needs to provide women with education and job opportunities. The government also needs to provide women with health care and treatment for drug addiction.

The government needs to take action to control the problem of drug addiction among women and ensure that women are not forced to use drugs. The government needs to provide women with education and job opportunities. The government also needs to provide women with health care and treatment for drug addiction.

The government needs to take action to control the problem of drug addiction among women and ensure that women are not forced to use drugs. The government needs to provide women with education and job opportunities. The government also needs to provide women with health care and treatment for drug addiction.

The government needs to take action to control the problem of drug addiction among women and ensure that women are not forced to use drugs. The government needs to provide women with education and job opportunities. The government also needs to provide women with health care and treatment for drug addiction.

The government needs to take action to control the problem of drug addiction among women and ensure that women are not forced to use drugs. The government needs to provide women with education and job opportunities. The government also needs to provide women with health care and treatment for drug addiction.

The government needs to take action to control the problem of drug addiction among women and ensure that women are not forced to use drugs. The government needs to provide women with education and job opportunities. The government also needs to provide women with health care and treatment for drug addiction.

The government needs to take action to control the problem of drug addiction among women and ensure that women are not forced to use drugs. The government needs to provide women with education and job opportunities. The government also needs to provide women with health care and treatment for drug addiction.

The government needs to take action to control the problem of drug addiction among women and ensure that women are not forced to use drugs. The government needs to provide women with education and job opportunities. The government also needs to provide women with health care and treatment for drug addiction.

The government needs to take action to control the problem of drug addiction among women and ensure that women are not forced to use drugs. The government needs to provide women with education and job opportunities. The government also needs to provide women with health care and treatment for drug addiction.