During the period, Singapore, China took part in the multinational maritime exercise Sea Breeze 2019 held in the Black Sea, the Ministry of Defense said.

Under a deal with Moscow and Tehran two years ago, Turkey set up 12 military observation posts in northwest Syria aimed at reducing fighting between Assad’s forces and rebels. The Turkish military has recently posted eight Iron Dome surface-to-air missiles in Idlib, which Syria and foreign and European allies, has supported differing factions in the conflict.

The second part of the shipments began on Aug. 27. The first part of the 5,400 delivery was completed in late July. Russia delivered 30 airplanes for passenger and combat aircraft — in part of a $1.35 billion deal.

The system is estimated to cost $450 million. Russia has said Russia had signed a 13-point agenda in its meeting with Syria’s President Bashar al-Assad.

President Tayyip Erdogan, who is running for re-election in June, has also called for a meeting of the Arab Parliamentary Division that started to-day.

President Bashar al-Assad. The US-led coalition against the rebels. Russian President Vladimir Putin, Iran’s Hassan Rouhani, and Russia’s President Vladimir Putin have agreed to fulfill at least some of the UN Security Council resolutions, which the United States says are not being fulfilled.

According to the UN’s Sustainable Development Report, the world needs to put $5.1 trillion a year into renewable energy from now until 2050 to meet the goals of the Paris Agreement.

The UN’s Sustainable Development Report, the world needs to put $5.1 trillion a year into renewable energy from now until 2050 to meet the goals of the Paris Agreement.

HONG KONG - Hong Kong police fire water cannon and tear gas to disperse protesters throwing petrol bombs at the border in the new territory of the city continuing their protest against the new national security law.

HONG KONG - Hong Kong police fire water cannon and tear gas to disperse protesters throwing petrol bombs at the border in the new territory of the city continuing their protest against the new national security law.

Leaders of Turkey, Russia, Iran Set to Tackle Syria Turmoil

Boris Johnson: Britain will Break Free of the EU ‘Like the Hulk’

Hadi Is Telling the World: Hezbollah Is Not the Problem. Not Ours

Harij is telling the world: Hezbollah is not the problem. Not ours. BEIRUT - It is reminiscent of a Hulk-like gesture. Prime Minister Saud Al-Mohammed of Lebanon addressed the UN Security Council on Monday and he underscored that the US recognition of two of Israel’s regions — the Golan Heights and the Chaba’as plains of Lebanon — is no longer. Meanwhile, amid the chaos in Lebanon, Prime Minister Hassan Diab has said he will continue with the political reforms proposed by the government in the wake of the explosion.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

Saudi Aramco Makes First Growth Investment Since 2009

Russia: More Local, Foreign Firms Invest in Country

Iran Ranks 27th Among World’s Biggest Economies: WB

Malala Yousafzai Awarded Nobel Peace Prize

Intra-Malala Among 500 Influential Muslims List

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

Russian Warships Serve Up a Storm in Black Sea

Congress adjourns session until 17th December

PMpars Cabinet Meeting on 17th December

Iran Ranks 27th Among World’s Biggest Economies: WB

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.

The Houthis rebels in Yemen have claimed they have carried out 10 armed drones to target oil refineries on Saturday. The attacks caused massive fires and other damage to the sites, which are producing fuel in order to fuel the Houthis’ war against Saudi Arabia and the Arab states in this region. The Houthis have previously admitted to launching such attacks against Saudi Arabia.