Belarusian President Expresses Regret at Brexit

The Belarusian president, Alexander Lukashenko, said on Tuesday that the UK’s decision to leave the European Union (EU) was a "signal to the whole world". He said that the UK’s departure was a "signal to all the free countries of the world".

He added that the UK’s departure would be a "signal to all the free countries of the world".

While speaking at a news conference in Minsk, he said: "The UK’s decision to leave the EU is a signal to all the free countries of the world. It shows that the idea of a united Europe is fading."

He also said that the UK’s departure would be a "signal to all the free countries of the world".

He added: "The UK’s decision to leave the EU is a signal to all the free countries of the world. It shows that the idea of a united Europe is fading."

He concluded: "The UK’s decision to leave the EU is a signal to all the free countries of the world. It shows that the idea of a united Europe is fading."